ITALY MAY ENTER WAR

Action by Chamber of Deputies.

GIVES GOVERNMENT FULL POWER TO ACT

Hostilities Against Austria May Begin Any Minute.

Rome, May 21.—All members of the cabinet maintain absolute silence regarding what steps will follow the action of the chamber of deputies in conferring upon the government full powers to make war. Former ministers and other men prominent in public affairs declare, however, that the action of parliament virtually was a declaration of war.

London, May 21.—Any remaining hope that Italy would maintain her neutrality was abandoned when the Italian chamber conferred upon the government extraordinary powers in the event of the outbreak of the war. The vote was 407 against 74.

This is considered a vote in favor of war, for which the government has made all preparations and prospects of which have aroused the greatest enthusiasm throughout Italy. The German and Austrian ambassadors are still in Rome, but, according to dispatches from Berlin, their one care now is to arrange for the safety of their nationals remaining in Italy.

A formal declaration of war, or, perhaps, action without a formal declaration, is momentarily expected. At any rate, all preparations for naval and military action have been made on both sides and it is quite possible that while the Italian premier, Signor Salandra, was explaining to the chamber and the world the policy of his government, the troops on the frontier and the navies in the Adriatic had anticipated diplomatic action. Italy naturally will have to look first to her frontier, but it is expected that her entrance into the war will compel Austria and, perhaps, Germany also, to withdraw some troops from the Russian frontier, where they are hammering at the Russian lines, particularly to the northwest and south of Przemyśl in middle Galicia.

GREAT EXPECTANCY IN ROME

People Applaud Deputies Wearing Military Uniforms.

Rome, May 21.—The whole capital is in a state of expectation. Only in the period of wars of independence can a parallel be found.

When the sitting of the chamber of deputies began there were present 482 deputies out of 500, the absentees being ill. The deputies especially applauded were those who wore military uniforms and who had asked permission for leave from their military duties.

All the tribunes were overflowing. In that for the diplomatic body were seated the American minister, Thomas Nelson Page, and his staff. The former mayor of New York, George B. McClellan, occupied a seat in the president's tribune.

DEFINITE NEWS IS SCARCE

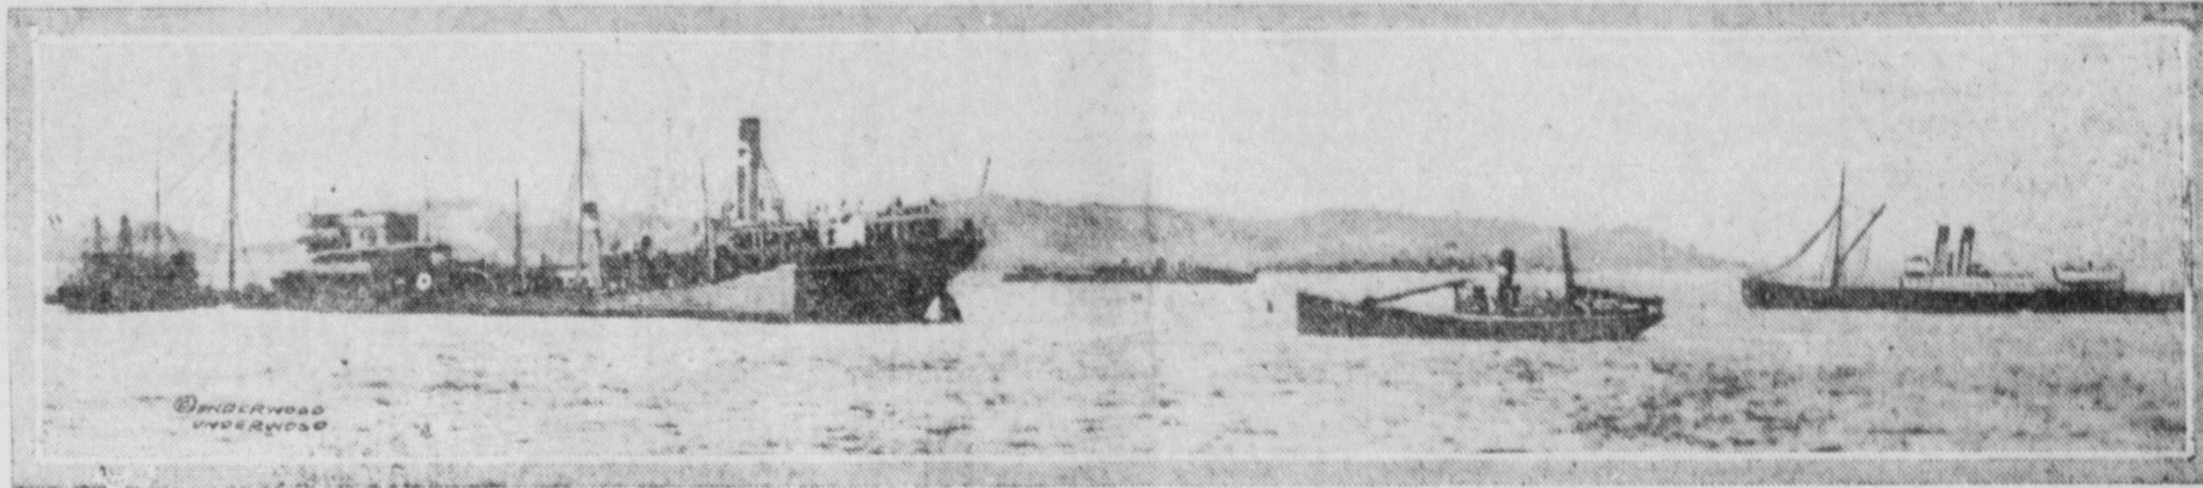

Berlin Regards Italy's Entrance as Absolutely Certain.

Berlin, May 21.—No definite information is available here regarding the Italian situation. An outbreak of hostilities is regarded as absolutely certain, but whether the Italian government intends to take a decisive step and declare war or will postpone the delivery of her ultimatum for a few days is unknown, even at the foreign office, although there still is an interrupted telegraphic communication between Berlin and Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador in Rome.

French Aviator Killed.

Paris, May 21.—Albert Moreau, a French aviator, has been killed by a fall of his aeroplane at Melun. Moreau was the inventor of a safety device to prevent the capsizing of aeroplanes. In 1913 he won the Bonnet prize with a self-righting aircraft which he drove without touching the levers.

This remarkable photograph of the Gulflight, the American oil tanker of the Gulf Refining Company of Pittsburgh, shows her a short time after a German submarine torpedoed her off the Scilly Islands. A British tug had just reached her to tow her into port. The photograph was set out in a tug from the English coast and raced out to get a view of the vessel which he believed at the time would sink. The Gulflight was owned by the Gulf Refining Company of Pittsburgh, the big independent refining company. Marine Superintendent Kennedy has been sent to St. Mary's to take charge of the vessel. He will have her repaired, if possible, and brought back to the United States.

MRS. PANKHURST.

Hopes Women Will Be Permitted to Enlist.

by American Press Association.

London, May 21.—"I hope one of the first acts of the coalition government will be to declare martial law and mobilize both men and women for the service of the country," said Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragists, addressing a meeting at Hull.

Mrs. Pankhurst expressed the hope that women would soon be permitted to enlist like men for war service at home. She personally was "willing to obey orders in the service of the country in any capacity."

CONTINUES EQUITY CASE TO JUNE 17

Defense Asks Further Time to Collect Evidence.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—The state concluded its presentation of evidence in the suit brought to annul the North Dakota charter of the Equity Co-operative Exchange of St. Paul, and an appointment of a receiver.

On motion of James Manahan, attorney for the exchange, a recess was taken until June 17 to allow the defense to collect additional evidence.

Edward Engerud, of counsel for the state, presented some seventy-five affidavits in support of the many charges made in the complaint of Attorney General H. J. Linde.

When Mr. Engerud had presented his final affidavit Mr. Manahan made a formal motion asking that the case be dismissed. He was about to argue the matter at length, when Judge C. A. Pollock interrupted.

"I shall deny the motion," he said, "and any argument would only be a waste of time. As I announced earlier I intend to hear both sides of this case."

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TAKES TRANSYLVANIA.

New York, May 21.—It was announced at the Cunard line office that the steamship Transylvania, which arrived in Glasgow from New York, has been requisitioned by the British government. Its sailings have been canceled.

GERMANY'S ANSWER AWAITS SANCTION

(By United Press)

Washington, May 21.—An official statement from the state department says Ambassador Gerard has cabled that the answer of Germany to the note from the United States regarding the Lusitania disaster has been completed and only awaits the sanction of the Kaiser.

(By United Press)

The cabinet this afternoon confidentially considered Germany's attitude toward the United States, the official reports indicating that Germany intended meeting the United States more than half way, and cited the fact that the German officials know that the allies are looking to the United States for war munitions, and knows the superiority of the American factories.

Battle Stops For Three-Days Rain

(By United Press)

Paris, May 21.—The French war department has issued an official bulletin in which it is stated that the great battle in the vicinity of Ypres and Arras which was halted on account of the three days rain storm has been renewed with desperate fighting along the Yser canal. The Germans braved the steady machine gun fire and drove the allies from the advanced positions north of Ypres, then the allies counter attacked and drove the enemy from the captured grounds and during the night the allies took the offensive in the same region and won new ground. The British have renewed the forward movement toward Lille.

Roosevelt Wins Illegal Verdict

(By United Press)

Syracuse, May 21.—There is an unparalleled court mix-up over the verdict returned in favor of Roosevelt in the trial just ended. The jury asked that Roosevelt pay half the costs of trial, although returning a verdict in his favor, which is illegal. The foreman of the jury reported that the verdict was unanimous, but that one jurymen, Edward Burns, a democrat stood against Roosevelt, which was also illegal, and on account of the two illegalities the judge ordered the jury returned for further consideration. The jury is still debating.

Syracuse, May 21.—The Roosevelt-Burns jury is deadlocked, and instead of returning a sealed verdict or reporting at 10 o'clock they entered the court room and asked for time for further consideration which was granted them by the court. They asked the judge to confer with them privately, the request being refused as any instructions given must be in open court.

French Aviator Killed

(By United Press)

Paris, May 21.—Moreau, the French aviator, fell 1,400 feet at Gelum, and was instantly killed.

AUSTRIA INTERN ALL MALE ITALIANS

(By United Press)

Venice, May 21.—The Austrians have begun to intern all the male Italians of military age, there being 50,000 Italians in the country around Barbariga, Dighano and Marzana, in the Trieste region and these have been placed aboard trains bound for the concentration camps at Carniola and Croatia. The leading Italians in Pola have been arrested and the mobs are terrorizing others.

CROWDS SURGING THROUGH STREETS

(By United Press)

Rome, May 21.—The cabinet was called unusually early this morning and wild rumors that hostilities against Austria had already begun were in circulation. Crowds are surging through the streets carrying flags of Italy and six nations opposing Germany.

Settle Claims For American Cotton

(By United Press)

Washington, May 21.—Secretary Bryan said this afternoon that he had received assurances from Ambassador Page, London, that the British government was taking action to settle immediately and satisfactorily to all owners the controversy arising on account of the American cotton shipments held at British ports. The only details were those relative to the proof of ownership and the contract price.

Admits Possibility German Invasion

(By United Press)

London, May 21.—This is the first time that the Daily Mail has admitted that there was a possibility of German invasion of England, and the paper comments upon the coalition of the cabinet, and said that the men selected would act when Germany finally strikes, which it believes will be at a moment when it will be most possible to scare the English into peace at German terms.

Complain Against Unfair Dismissal

(By United Press)

New York, May 21.—Fifty thousand garment workers in New York are ready for the greatest strike in the history of the country. The unions claim they are fighting for the rights of a discharged employee, the complaint being against unfair dismissal.

Most Terrific Fighting Here

(By United Press)

Petrograd, May 21.—Three hundred thousand troops are locked in the most terrific battle north of Jerusalem and the result may decide the fate of the fortress Permyl. The Germans are advancing slightly against a galling artillery fire.

ULTIMATUM BEFORE NIGHT

(By United Press)

Rome, May 21.—Italy's ultimatum will be on its way to Austria before night, but it is not believed that Italy will begin hostilities without giving Austria one more diplomatic chance.

REPORT GERMANS CAPTURED RIGA

(By United Press)

London, May 21.—The report that the Germans have captured Riga, the great Russian Baltic seaport, is unconfirmed and the report is not given credence in official circles.

Royal Decree Suspend Diplomatic Immunity

(By United Press)

Rome, May 21.—Premier Salandra this afternoon obtained a royal decree suspending diplomatic immunity for the Austrian and German ambassadors to the vatican. Both leave Rome tomorrow.

Italians Seize Rice

(By United Press)

Naples, May 21.—The Italian authorities this morning seized a Greek steamer carrying 2,000 tons of rice bound for Germany.

War Council Held

(By United Press)

Rome, May 21.—It is reported that a war council will be held tonight.

STEAMER SAILS WITH 248

French Line Vessel Passengers Not Fearful of Submarines.

New York, May 21.—The French line steamship Rochambeau, carrying 125 cabin and 123 steerage passengers, left here for Bordeaux. Fears of submarines apparently were not entertained by Captain Dumont of the liner, who said French warships always convoyed his vessel through the danger zone.

Among the passengers were eleven nurses going to Dieppe for duty in the French base hospital.

German Paper Scores Italy.

Amsterdam, May 21.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, a copy of which has been received here, says: "This war by Italy against her former allies is one of the most abominable examples of perfidy that history knows. We shall now have one more war zone. Certainly that is no light matter, but it will only increase our resolution not to allow ourselves to be beaten."

REPLY IS ALMOST READY

German Answer May Be in Washington Next Tuesday.

Washington, May 21.—Germany's reply to the American note sent a week ago as a consequence of the Lusitania tragedy and other violations of American rights in the war zone, has been nearly completed, according to intimations which have reached here through diplomatic channels.

The return of Emperor William from the eastern front is said to be awaited by the imperial chancellor and the minister of foreign affairs before the document is put into final form for presentation to Ambassador Gerard. It may reach here Tuesday or Wednesday.

Investigating Sinking of British Steamer Falaba.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

ACCUSED OF INHUMANITY

Seamen Alleged to Have Jeered at Drowning Victims.

London, May 21.—An inquiry into the sinking on March 28 of the British steamer Falaba by a German submarine and the subsequent loss of 100 lives, including that of Leon C. Thresher, an American, was begun by Lord Mersey, president of the board of marine arbitration.

Solicitor General Buckmaster, opening the case for the board of trade, made these charges: That the Falaba was torpedoed in broad daylight at a distance of 100 yards. That while the passengers of the Falaba were struggling in the sea the submarine sent a torpedo through them, the shock throwing the occupants of boats into the water. That the crew of the submarine stood jeering as the victims struggled in the sea.

GERMANS SAID TO HAVE TAKEN RIGA

Capture Important Russian Port on the Baltic.

London, May 21.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Copenhagen says:

"It is stated that the Germans have captured Riga, on the Gulf of Riga, in Northwest Russia."

"A private dispatch reports a big naval battle in the Baltic."

Riga is Russia's principal port on the Baltic aside from Petrograd. The town lies at the head of the Gulf of Riga, 312 miles southwest of Petrograd.

It is an important industrial and commercial center, its industries being the manufacture of machinery, railroad cars and tobacco. It has a population of about 300,000, many of whom before the war were Germans.

THIRTEEN FRENCH FISHERMEN DROWNED.

London, May 21.—The French steam trawler St. Just of Arachon was torpedoed and literally smashed to pieces near Dartmouth, thirteen of her crew being drowned. The captain was the only survivor. It is said that no warning was given the vessel before she was torpedoed.

LEADERS BUSY MAKING SLATE

New British Cabinet in Process of Formation.

LIGHTEN KITCHENER'S WORK

Secretary of War Has Too Much to Do in Raising New Armies and Organization of Output of Munitions. Premier Asquith and Foreign Secretary Grey Will Retain Their Portfolios.

London, May 21.—The national government, which is to guide the British empire for the duration of the war, is now in progress of formation.

The leaders of the political parties were in conference arranging details. No statement has yet been made as to the personnel of the new ministry except that Premier Asquith and Foreign Secretary Grey will remain in the posts which they now hold. Thus far all the statements as to the allotment of offices have been based largely on surmise.

It appears certain, however, that there will be a new civil head of the admiralty and war office, respectively, and possibly changes in the professional heads as well, or at any rate, a readjustment of the responsibility.

Earl Kitchener, the secretary of war, it is generally agreed, has too much to do in the direction of the war, raising new armies and the organization of the output of munitions, and some of these duties will be shifted to other shoulders.

Chancellor Lloyd-George and Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, are about equally favored for civil head of the war office and A. J. Balfour is mentioned for a similar position in the admiralty.

In the latter case there is some doubt as to whether Mr. Balfour would consent to accept this position.

However, there is to be a complete change in the whole government, including not only the cabinet, but the under secretarieships as well, and the posts will be distributed among the Liberals, Unionists and Laborites according to their strength in the house of commons.

The Nationalists, it is understood, have definitely decided to stand aside. T. P. O'Connor, in an article in his weekly newspaper, says that John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, respectfully refused the offer of a seat in the cabinet.

It has been suggested that the present opportunity is a good one to include representatives of the dominions in the government, but as this would involve a very great change it is not likely to be considered.

BELIEVE WAR IS INEVITABLE

Keen Interest Among Prominent Men at Washington.

Washington, May 21.—Intense interest prevailed among government officials and the large body of foreign diplomats on receipt of advices that war between Austria and Italy was now inevitable. Some official dispatches from Rome predicted an actual declaration of war before the end of this week.

Only in the possible effect in Berlin on the tenor of the German answer to the recent American note was there a direct interest for the United States in the Austrian-Italian developments. Some officials believe the value of the public opinion of the most powerful neutral remaining would be an important influence toward a most friendly reply, while others thought the cutting off of supplies through the Mediterranean would cause the German admiralty to permit little restriction in the activities of submarines.

ALIENS MUST REGISTER.

Rome, May 21.—A royal decree issued provides that all foreigners in Italy must register with the police within three days. Failure to meet the requirements of the decree will be punished by arrest and a fine.

WILSON GREETING TO CUBA

President Congratulates Republic on Thirtieth Anniversary.

Washington, May 21.—President Wilson cabled to President Menocal of Cuba, congratulating him on the thirtieth anniversary of Cuban independence. The message said:

"It gives me great pleasure to extend to your excellency and to the Cuban people cordial greetings on this anniversary of the independence of Cuba."

The anniversary was celebrated here by a banquet.

BELIEVE WAR IS INEVITABLE

Keen Interest Among Prominent Men at Washington.

Washington, May 21.—Intense interest prevailed among government officials and the large body of foreign diplomats on receipt of advices that war between Austria and Italy was now inevitable. Some official dispatches from Rome predicted an actual declaration of war before the end of this week.

Only in the possible effect in Berlin on the tenor of the German answer to the recent American note was there a direct interest for the United States in the Austrian-Italian developments. Some officials believe the value of the public opinion of the most powerful neutral remaining would be an important influence toward a most friendly reply, while others thought the cutting off of supplies through the Mediterranean would cause the German admiralty to permit little restriction in the activities of submarines.

Aliens Must Register.

Rome, May 21.—A royal decree issued provides that all foreigners in Italy must register with the police within three days. Failure to meet the requirements of the decree will be punished by arrest and a fine.

WILSON GREETING TO CUBA

President Congratulates Republic on Thirtieth Anniversary.

Washington, May 21.—President Wilson cabled to President Menocal of Cuba, congratulating him on the thirtieth anniversary of Cuban independence. The message said:

"It gives me great pleasure to extend to your excellency and to the Cuban people cordial greetings on this anniversary of the independence of Cuba."

The anniversary was celebrated here by a banquet.

"The Man Behind the Pipe"

He Muses on What
Memorial Day
Means

WE hear of the nerve and brawn of "the man behind the gun," and out of the belching flame and smoke
we almost feel the throbbing of the brave heart who risks all for the cause he has espoused. Trustingly we rest upon his valor, leaving the safety of the republic in his hands.
A filmy wreath of blue smoke floats lazily out upon the air. At his ease sits "the man behind the pipe." Nothing in his attitude or face, save the rapt expression of a soldier in a "pipe dream," gives us a clue to his thoughts or self communion, but what a vast panorama those filmy wreaths of blue smoke contain for his mind's eye! They bring to "the man behind the pipe" the tented field, the weary march, the lonely picket, the faces of

THE MAN BEHIND THE PIPE.

"the boys," the glow of the campfire,
what there was of cheer in the voice of war and, above all, the strong, close tie of comradeship, that sacred coun-tersign in a mighty brotherhood of man whose password is "Loyalty," stronger than death—"Many floods cannot drown it."

As he muses the stormy past drifts up to the peaceful present. The "old boys" are with him; their faults are blotted out, their virtues emphasized.
As comrades they "pass in review"
through the rings of smoke and nestle close to his heart. The smoke as it dies away takes on the form of Old Glory. The blue smoke and white ashes mingle, and the glow of the passing pipe paints the gleam of the stars.
Softly, tenderly, as shadows fall upon
the gray old world to shut out its weariness, so fall these dream folds of the old flag upon the soldier, and he sleeps.

A cordon of these men behind the pipe encircles the world; a network of them girds this great republic. Their loyalty to the tie of comradeship is never questioned, and where manhood is loyal to manhood rests the safety of this republic. Once more the toast—
"The Man Behind the Pipe!"

Memorial Day.

This is the day
Of the heroes who passed away—
Who fell in their might and their pride
And died.
Side by side
When the guns and the cannon roared
And into the serried ranks there poured
Seething and hissing shell in a flood
Of carnage and blood,
Mowing them down like blades of grass
In a hideous mass,
Yet glad to suffer and bleed
And die for their country's need.
For the right as the right they saw,
As the blue or the gray they wore!
To them tearful homage pay—
This is their day!

Bring ye flowers
For these gallant heroes of ours,
For northern and southern, both brave,
Who gave
To the grave,
To be buried forevermore,
All sectional rancor and hate,
That, true and elate,
We might march on in glory and pride,
Brothers, side by side,
Rejoicing one country we know
In our hearts, love of it glow!
They suffered and died not in vain
Who gave up their lives for our gain!
To them reverent homage pay—
This is their day!
—Henry Waldorf Francis in New York Times.

Stars and Stripes and Stars and Bars.
For a long time there was a rigid rule
against erecting any but Federal monuments in Federal battlefields cemeteries and Confederate monuments in Confederate cemeteries. But as the bitterness healed slabs were placed here
and there denoting that a one time enemy slept among the others. When Memorial day came the flowers were placed ungrudgingly on the alien's mound. In one of the southern cemeteries where a northern soldier rests
there was for a long time a practice of decorating every Confederate grave
with a tiny Confederate flag—the stars and bars. As time passed and the southerners' grief lessened they placed flowers on their foeman's grave also.

CHARM OF ICELAND.

A Land of Wild Grandeur and Mighty
and Beautiful Waterfalls.

In spite of its poverty Iceland is one of the most beautiful countries of the world. The scenery combines a wild grandeur, with ingratiating charm in an infinite variety of characteristic landscapes.

The mountain formations are majestic and powerful in outline, showing traces of the volcanic forces which are still active in some places. The large cupola shaped mountains, which rise
like oriental temples from the ocean or
the level plains, their tops covered with perpetual snow, are very impressive.

To this must be added a wealth of mighty and beautiful waterfalls, great lakes, steaming springs and craters still warm. The view is usually wide and open and the play of colors fascinating, especially in the fair, mild summer nights. The air is clear, healthy and invigorating, streaming alternately from the wide sea and
from the snow covered mountains.

This natural beauty attracts many tourists to the country, and large ocean steamers, filled with travelers, visit it several times each summer. Owing to the lack of transportation facilities
most of them must be content with seeing the coasts. When it gets railroads, modern hotels and other conveniences Iceland will no doubt become a popular tourist country.

Iceland has many possibilities for a fair future. — American Scandinavian Review.

Gardens in Palestine.

Gardens in Palestine are found mainly in the environs of the larger towns and owe their existence to springs and fountains whose precious waters give life to the fruits and flowers, orchards,
parks and pleasure grounds which enter into the oriental conception of paradise. Where no running stream exists they depend for life upon capacious cisterns which "drink water from the rain of heaven." They are always carefully inclosed and protected by hedges, walls and ditches, and the traveler is surprised amid the heat and glare of the Syrian sun to enter their pleasant pathways and find retired and shady nooks under embowering greenery.—

ing pipe paints the gleam of the stars.
Softly, tenderly, as shadows fall upon
the gray old world to shut out its weariness, so fall these dream folds of
the old flag upon the soldier, and he sleeps.

A cordon of these men behind the pipe encircles the world; a network of them girds this great republic. Their loyalty to the tie of comradeship is
never questioned, and where manhood
is loyal to manhood rests the safety of this republic. Once more the toast—
"The Man Behind the Pipe!"

Memorial Day.

This is the day
Of the heroes who passed away—
Who fell in their might and their pride
And died
Side by side
When the guns and the cannon roared
And into the serried ranks there poured
Seething and hissing shell in a flood
Of carnage and blood,
Mowing them down like blades of grass
In a hideous mass,
Yet glad to suffer and bleed
And die for their country's need.
For the right as the right they saw,
As the blue or the gray they wore!
To them reverent homage pay—
This is their day!

Bring ye flowers
For these gallant heroes of ours,
For northern and southern, both brave,
Who gave
To the grave,
To be buried forevermore,
All sectional rancor and hate,
That, true and elate,
We might march on in glory and pride,
Rejoicing one country we know
In our hearts, love of it glow!
They suffered and died not in vain
Who gave us their lives for our gain!
To them reverent homage pay—
This is their day!
—Henry Waldorf Francis in New York Times.

Stars and Stripes and Stars and Bars.

For a long time there was a rigid rule
against erecting any but Federal monuments in Federal battlefield cemeteries
and Confederate monuments in Confederate cemeteries. But as the bitterness healed slabs were placed here
and there denoting that a one time enemy slept among the others. When Memorial day came the flowers were placed ungrudgingly on the alien's
mound. In one of the southern cemeteries where a northern soldier rests
there was for a long time a practice of decorating every Confederate grave
with a tiny Confederate flag—the stars and bars. As time passed and the southerners' grief lessened they placed flowers on their foeman's grave also.

CHARM OF ICELAND.

A Land of Wild Grandeur and Mighty
and Beautiful Waterfalls.

In spite of its poverty Iceland is one
of the most beautiful countries of the world. The scenery combines a wild grandeur, with ingratiating charm in an infinite variety of characteristic landscapes.

The mountain formations are majestic and powerful in outline, showing
traces of the volcanic forces which are still active in some places. The large cupola shaped mountains, which rise
like oriental temples from the ocean or
the level plains, their tops covered with perpetual snow, are very impressive.

To this must be added a wealth of mighty and beautiful waterfalls, great lakes, steaming springs and craters
still warm. The view is usually wide
and open and the play of colors fascinating, especially in the fair, mild
summer nights. The air is clear,
healthy and invigorating, streaming
alternately from the wide sea and
from the snow covered mountains.

This natural beauty attracts many
tourists to the country, and large ocean
steamers, filled with travelers, visit it
several times each summer. Owing to the lack of transportation facilities
most of them must be content with seeing the coasts. When it gets railroads, modern hotels and other conveniences Iceland will no doubt become a popular tourist country.

Iceland has many possibilities for a fair future. — American Scandinavian Review.

Gardens in Palestine.

Gardens in Palestine are found mainly in the environs of the larger towns
and owe their existence to springs and fountains whose precious waters give
life to the fruits and flowers, orchards,
parks and pleasure grounds which enter into the oriental conception of paradise. Where no running stream exists
they depend for life upon capacious cisterns which "drink water from the rain of heaven." They are always carefully inclosed and protected by hedges,
walls and ditches, and the traveler is
surprised amid the heat and glare of
the Syrian sun to enter their pleasant
pathways and find retired and shady
nooks under embowering greenery.—

On a personal visit to Mr. Henry Ford I broached the subject of a possible August 1st Rebate.
(The Ford Company announced last year—as you well remember—that if their sales reached 300,000 cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, each purchaser during that period would receive back a refund of $10.00 to $60.00.)

"Mr. Ford," I suggested, "is there anything I can say to our people with regard to the Ford Motor Company's 300,000 car rebate plan?"

"We shall sell the 300,000," was the quiet reply—"and in 11 months, a full month ahead of August 1st!"

"Then a refund is practically assured?"

"Yes—barring the totally unexpected." We are 50,000 to 75,000 cars behind orders today. Factory and branches are sending out 1800 daily."

I then said to Mr. Ford: "If I could make a definite refund statement we would increase our local sales 500 cars."

"You may say," was Mr. Ford's deliberate and significant reply to this—"You may say that we shall pay back to each purchaser of a Ford car between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, barring the unforeseen, the sum of $50. You may say that I authorized you to make this statement!"

What can I add to the above? $15,000,000 cash coming back to Ford owners! And to prospective Ford owners up to August 1, 1915, it actually means—Ford Touring Cars for $490—less the $50 rebate! Ford Runabouts for $440—less the $50 rebate!

What is there left for me to say?

THE ITALIAN SITUATION

By Alice Rohe
United Press Staff Correspondent

Rome, May 3, by mail to New York—Six men hold the key to the Italian situation in their keeping. They are King Victor Emmanuel, Premier Salandra, Minister of Foreign Affairs Sonnino, Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Rome; ex-Premier Giolitti and Gen. Cadorna, chief of the general staff.

With every hour increasing the excitement of the people over the Austro-Italian situation, the importance of Gen. Cadorna has gradually taken the ascendancy. Today he is the only man in Italy who holds the situation in hand and in that hand is the sword. He is demanding that there be no compromise on the question of Austrian concessions. To the satisfaction of Premier Salandra and to the king himself, it is said that Cadorna has shown that the cession of Trentino in part, and not up to the Brenner border would be a constant menace to Italy. Looking at Italy's position in the European upheaval with the keen, far reaching eyes of the military defense expert, he practically says that only with Trentino, Trieste, Fiume, Gorizia—in fact all provinces occupied by Italians—once more in Italy's control will he be content to keep back his dogs of war.

With Cadorna's rising star, Giolitti, the astute, has not sunk entirely into a shadow. Just why Giolitti, a former prime minister, was admitted to the sacred conference that concerns all the world when Salandra was the real man in power, might have puzzled some minds. The reason was that Salandra the man with the people behind him, the man who is trusted and beloved throughout Italy is not strong with parliament.

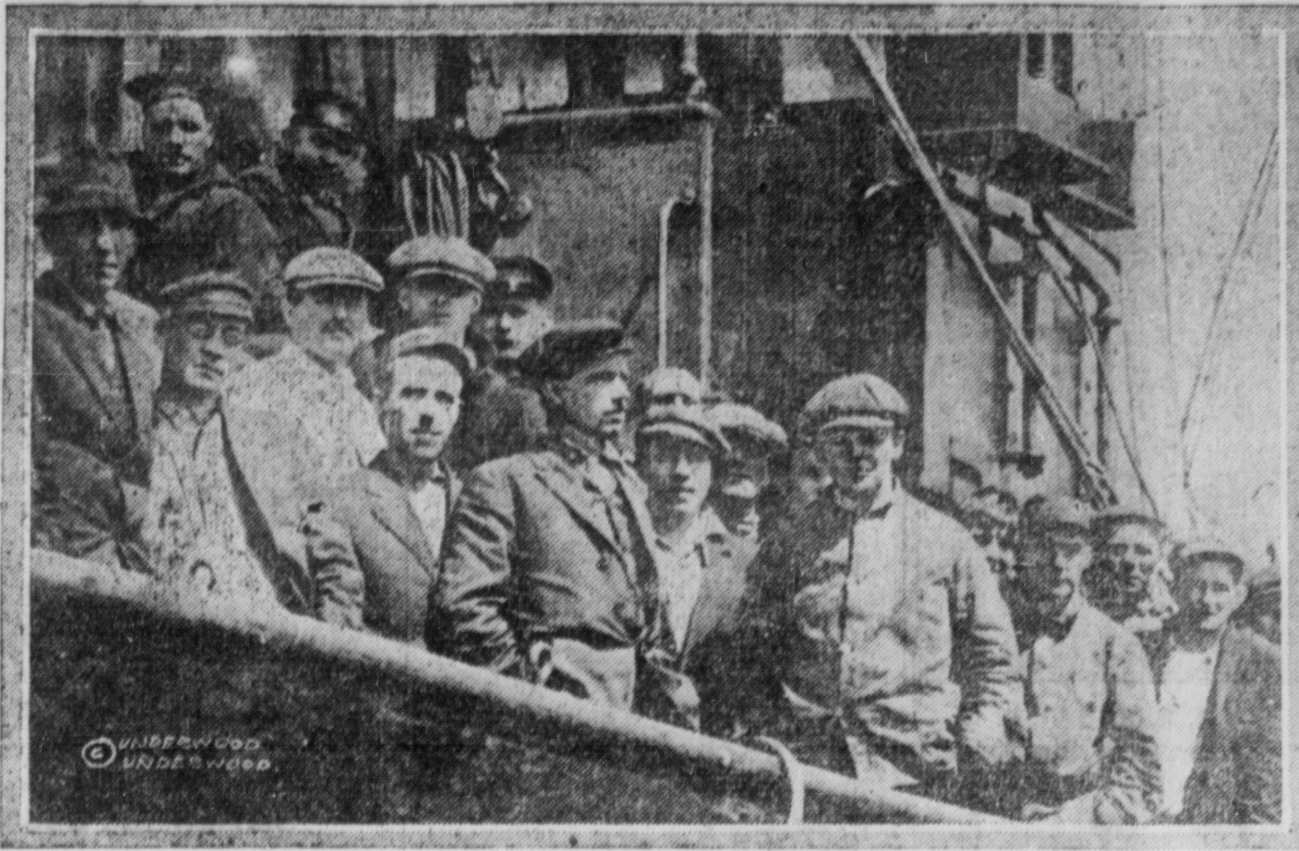

Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, the man with the finesse of a diplomat doubtless had need of an Italian in power, who had parliament in his wake, if he was to succeed in his negotiations and keep Italy out of the war. In consequence his overtures concerning Austrian concessions, it is said, were first broached to Giolitti, who holds away over parliament. Besides Giolitti and von Buelow are both "cousins of the king," so why should they not interchange visits without arousing a storm of conjecture. Only men who have distinguished themselves by service to the Italian government are honored with membership in this order "collars dell' annunziata," which carries with it the kingly relationship.

Sonnino and Giolitti, although politically separated, are reported to be of one accord. Sonnino, it is said, agrees with Giolitti that reasonable concessions, if offered by Austria should be accepted, that Italy's aspirations should not soar as far as Dalmatia. Italian territorial demands have spread with agitating effect of late. The pro-Germans want to know why Italy is thinking of Trentino and Trieste, when Corsica, Tunis, Nice, Malta and other provinces belonging to England and France are equally alluring. Francesco Fobotti, the political writer, points out in reply that it is a question of annexing those provinces that want Italian annexation and are ready for immediate action. Trentino and Trieste, especially Trentino await with impatience Italy's decision.

Wild rumors concerning Austria's reported concessions continue to spread, but they have in no way lessened the intensity of the Italian people in their desire for action. Unless every inch of former Italian territory inhabited by Italians in yielded to Italy by Austria war is inevitable. Should the secret diplomatic workings over which the people are continually agitated result in acceptance of a slice of territory instead of the whole then the saddest day of modern Italian history would be at hand. With the announcement of "no war" and acceptance of part pay from Austria, the country would be in a state of revolution in 24 hours.

The people are on the verge of an outburst. They are tired of the diplomatic game. That Italy will have to declare herself shortly is the accepted view of the situation.

Rescued American Seamen of Steamer Torpedoed by Germans

These seamen of the American steamer Gulfight were saved by British tugs and patrol boats after the vessel was torpedoed off Scilly Islands May 1. Three of the crew lost their lives as a result of the attack. The testimony of the survivors was to the effect that the German submarine gave no warning whatever, but shot the torpedo into a vessel flying the American flag in plain view. This has been the cause of the representations made to the German government in the note of President Wilson, sent Friday.

BUSINESS IS GOOD AT IRONTON

Not a Vacant House to be Seen in the Entire Village, More Mines Operating Near By

JOHN H. HILL WAS AT DULUTH

Attended to Mining Matters—Ironton Preparing for its Fourth of July Celebration

Ironton, Minn., May 21—In the district court at Brainerd, Michael Flynn was victorious in a suit brought against him by James Smith. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant Flynn.

F. R. Zimmerman, of Duluth, attended to business matters in Ironton.

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Edwards, of Superior, were Ironton visitors.

E. H. McCausland, of Superior, was in Ironton this week.

John H. Hill has been at Duluth attending to important mining business. Representative Edward R. Syverson has returned from a trip to Duluth.

Clement K. Quinn, head of the company whose land is soon to be stripped for a pit mine, was in Ironton this week.

There is not a vacant house in Ironton and business in all lines is good.

Ironton is making great preparations for its Fourth of July celebration. There will be band music, base ball games and other amusements.

Irene avenue is getting to be one of the fine residential streets of the village.

M. B. Ellingson and Isaac Frazer motored over the range on Tuesday afternoon.

Frank Billings, of Cleveland, Ohio, was a range visitor.

J. S. Lutes, superintendent of the Pennington mine and doing stripping work at the Armour No. 1 mine, was in Ironton this week.

It is said the Soo line contemplates putting on additional passenger train service.

The Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Mille Laes mines are expected to ship soon.

E. J. W. Donahue was at Brainerd on business.

Motor parties touring the range visit the Spina hotel which offers fine accommodations.

Roads are being improved leading into Ironton.

Little Worries.

In Chesterton's "Tremendous Trifles" is this: A friend of mine who was visiting a poor woman in bereavement and casting about for some phrase of consolation that should not be either insolent or weak said at last: "I think one can live through these great sorrows and even be the better. What wears one is the little worries."

"That's quite right, mum," answered the old woman, with emphasis, "and I ought to know, seeing I've had ten of 'em."

Danger to Children

Serious illnesses often result from lingering coughs and colds. The hacking and coughing and disturbed sleep rack a child's body and the poisons weaken the system, so that disease cannot be thrown off. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has eased coughs, colds and croup for three generations; safe to use and quick to act. There is no better medicine for croup, coughs and colds. For sale by H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Advt. mwf

URGES TELEPHONE MERGER

The following letter is from the Public Service Commission of Indiana to the Central Union Telephone company in regard to a merger of systems:

This commission begs to direct attention to its letter of Dec. 12, 1913, bearing on the telephone situation in the city of Indianapolis, especially to that feature of the letter above referred to contained in the last paragraph hereinafter quoted:

Public convenience and necessity demand a single and complete service, which is only possible by a consolidation between the Central Union Telephone Company and the Indianapolis Telephone Company for both local and long distance service. This then, should be necessarily worked out if there is to be a readjustment in rates of either company.

It is the desire of this commission that you immediately undertake the solution of this problem, and as soon as possible submit to the commission a basis for its consideration on which the proper solution can be brought about, which will be fair to the public and companies as well.

Public sentiment as evidenced through the press and by petition leaves no doubt in the minds of this commission that a large majority of the telephone users in the city of Indianapolis are dissatisfied with the present dual service condition and desire instead a single or unified service, which will bring about a complete service without the necessity of incurring the expense and added nuisance of two telephones.

Your company has as far as this commission knows taken no steps (as suggested in the paragraphs above quoted) in the direction of assisting or lending co-operation toward bringing about the condition which the public demands. The commission therefore in this way begs to again call your attention to the matter in the hope that you will realize that the interest of the public as well as your company can be better served by lending your assistance to this commission in its attempt to bring about better telephone conditions in the city of Indianapolis.

You are hereby directed to submit to this commission at the earliest possible date a detailed physical valuation of your Indianapolis local exchange property.

$220,000,000 MORE FOR WAR

Ribot Introduces Additional Appropriation in French Chamber.

Paris, May 20.—Minister of Finance Ribot introduced in the chamber of deputies a bill providing for 1,100,000,000 francs ($220,000,000), being an additional appropriation for the first six months of 1915. Parliament already has voted 8,500,000,000 francs ($1,700,000,000) for these appropriations.

Ptolemaic Astronomy.

According to the Ptolemaic theory, the east was the center of the universe and was motionless. The surrounding ethereal region was composed of eleven skies or firmaments, which revolved around the earth as a common center. All the celestial bodies moved around the earth. This system lasted from about 200 B. C. to the time of Copernicus.

Gunpowder and Cotton.

It is wonderful to reflect that gunpowder is almost pure cotton. It requires but little juggling—scientific juggling, to be sure—to convert the harmless crop of the cotton field into the most effective of modern smokeless powders. Those big grains of cannon powder which look like pieces of stick candy are but cotton refined to this form and treated with nitrate. All nations make their powder of the same materials, the only difference being in the mechanical form the product takes.

Hornpipes.

Hornpipes are so called from their having been performed originally to the Welsh pib corn, or hornpipe.

BOY OF THREE YEARS IS VANDERBILT HEIR

May Inherit Bulk of Alfred Gwynne's Fortune.

In the financial and social world of New York there is much speculation about the disposition of the estate of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who died when the Lusitania was torpedoed May 7.

Among the suggestions that have been made as to provisions of Mr. Vanderbilt's will is one to the effect that the bulk of the property will probably be left to Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mr. Vanderbilt's elder son by his second wife, who was Mrs. Smith Hollins McKim. The boy is in his third year. His full brother, George, was born last September.

It is also believed that the will contains bequests to Mr. Vanderbilt's brothers and sisters, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney (who was Gertrude Vanderbilt) and the Countess Szechenyi, and that provision has been made for William H. Vanderbilt, Mr. Vanderbilt's son by his first wife, formerly Miss Elsie French.

A question has been raised as to the methods that would be adopted to prove Mr. Vanderbilt's death if his body is not found.

When the estate of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's father, Cornelius Vanderbilt, was distributed in 1900 (he died in 1899) the appraisal values placed the entire estate at $52,500,000 in personalty and $20,000,000 in realty. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's share was estimated then at approximately $56,000,000. The values of the properties in New York real estate have increased greatly since then.

It is recorded that Mr. Vanderbilt held direct title to the Hotel Vanderbilt, a twenty story structure in Park avenue extending from Thirty-third to Thirty-fourth street; the Vanderbilt building, Nassau and Beekman streets; 245 and 247 Front street and 153 and 155 South street.

Mr. Vanderbilt held a big interest in the New York Central Realty and Terminal company, which controls the blocks between Forty-second and Fifty-fifth streets from Lexington to Madison avenue. This tract forms the site of the Grand Central terminal development and the property is said to be worth somewhere in the neighborhood of $20,000,000.

Properties along the Hudson river and Riverside drive from One Hundred and Fourteenth street to Spuyten Duyvil and the ship canal are also owned by a subsidiary of this corporation. The aggregate values of the properties held by these corporations have been placed, it is believed conservatively, at nearly $100,000,000. His home at Fifth avenue and Fifty-eighth street, is one of the largest and finest private houses in the world.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the possessor of the bulk of the fortune of his late father, Cornelius Vanderbilt, since he attained his majority, was an active figure in financial circles. He was prominent in the social life of New York city, and by reason of his deep interest in coaching and kindred sports was exceedingly popular in America and abroad.

Mr. Vanderbilt was the second son of Cornelius Vanderbilt and was born in New York city in 1877. He was graduated from Yale university in 1899 and was voted the most popular man in the institution. His older brother, Cornelius, was disinherited by their father because of his opposition to the marriage of the younger Cornelius, it was said.

Mr. Vanderbilt was one of the principal exhibitors at the horse show in New York, and his horses were also shown at exhibitions throughout the country. He was an expert whip.

WHEN CROWS MOBILIZE.

They Usually Mass Themselves For Attack Upon an Enemy.

The crows are masters of mobilization. Such mobilizations have frequently been investigated. Usually they prove to be for the attack on some enemy.

Thoreau speaks of the crows "bursting up above the woods where they were perching like the black fragments of a powder mill just exploded." When they are gathered for war purposes their cries will lead you to the spot where they are fighting, and these same bursts of black fragments above the trees, usually following an especial uproar of cawing, will direct you to the center of the battle.

Walter King Stone, the illustrator, and Charles Livingston Bull have told me of a mobilization they once witnessed, when the crows gathered for hours and the two observers were able to penetrate the woods to the exact spot beneath the feathered explosions. There they found a great horned owl flying low in the trees with a dead crow in his talons. Whether this was the original cause of the battle or whether he had grabbed the crow in one of the descents of the birds about his head they, of course, could not say. He was evidently struggling to find a dead tree where he could take refuge. He was saved probably by the coming of night.

Crows have even been known to attack foxes, as Winslow Homer's painting is the most famous witness.

A farmer near my home who has observed crows for many years and has the reputation of knowing more about them than any one else in the neighborhood tells me that almost invariably in his experience the cause of a large mobilization is either a big owl or a hawk. The little screech owls are also attacked, but by lesser numbers. He has also personally seen the crows attack a fox while it was crossing an open field, and once he watched a flock of nearly 100 crows worrying a Skye terrier dog, which was so thoroughly frightened that it was running in circles. I have seen crows attack a cat also, but the cat always is wise enough to make for cover.—Walter Prichard Eaton in Harper's Magazine.

A Substitute for Meat

ANY expert chef will tell you that a macaroni base is the ideal substitute for meat. Creamettes is more tender than ordinary macaroni and cooks in less than one-third the time. A package of Creamettes will give you nearly twice as much food value as a pound of beefsteak at less than one-half the cost.

Creamettes is made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own. Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken or with nuts.

THE ITALIAN SITUATION

By Alice Rohe

United Press Staff Correspondent

Rome, May 3, by mail to New York—Six men hold the key to the Italian situation in their keeping. They are King Victor Emmanuel, Premier Salandra, Minister of Foreign Affairs Sonnino, Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Rome; ex-Premier Giolitti and Gen. Cadorna, chief of the general staff.

With every hour increasing the excitement of the people over the Austro-Italian situation, the importance of Gen. Cadorna has gradually taken the ascendancy. Today he is the only man in Italy who holds the situation in hand and in that hand is the sword. He is demanding that there be no compromise on the question of Austrian concessions. To the satisfaction of Premier Salandra and to the king himself, it is said that Cadorna has shown that the cession of Trentino in part and not up to the Brenner border would be a constant menace to Italy. Looking at Italy's position in the European upheaval with the keen, far reaching eyes of the military defense expert, he practically says that only with Trentino, Trieste, Fiume, Gorizia—in fact all provinces occupied by Italians—once more in Italy's control will he be content to keep back his dogs of war.

With Cadorna's rising star, Giolitti, the astute, has not sunk entirely into a shadow. Just why Giolitti, a former prime minister, was admitted to the sacred conference that concerns all the world when Salandra was the real man in power, might have puzzled some minds. The reason was that Salandra the man with the people behind him, the man who is trusted and beloved throughout Italy is not strong with parliament.

Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, the man with the finesse of a diplomat doubtless had need of an Italian in power, who had parliament in his wake, if he was to succeed in his negotiations and keep Italy out of the war. In consequence his overtures concerning Austrian concessions, it is said, were first broached to Giolitti, who holds away over parliament. Besides Giolitti and von Buelow are both "cousins of the king," so why should they not interchange visits without arousing a storm of conjecture. Only men who have distinguished themselves by service to the Italian government are honored with membership in this order "collars dell' annunziata," which carries with it the kingly relationship.

Sonnino and Giolitti, although politically separated, are reported to be of one accord. Sonnino, it is said, agrees with Giolitti that reasonable concessions, if offered by Austria should be accepted, that Italy's aspirations should not soar as far as Dalmatia. Italian territorial demands have spread with agitating effect of late. The pro-Germans want to know why Italy is thinking of Trentino and Trieste, when Corsica, Tunis, Nice, Malta and other provinces belonging to England and France are equally alluring. Francesco Foborti, the political writer, points out in reply that it is a question of annexing those provinces that want Italian annexation and are ready for immediate action. Trentino and Trieste, especially Trentino await with impatience Italy's decision.

Wild rumors concerning Austria's reported concessions continue to spread, but they have in no way lessened the intensity of the Italian people in their desire for action. Unless every inch of former Italian territory inhabited by Italians in yielded to Italy by Austria war is inevitable. Should the secret diplomatic workings over which the people are continually agitated result in acceptance of a slice of territory instead of the whole then the saddest day of modern Italian history would be at hand. With the announcement of "no war" and acceptance of part pay from Austria, the country would be in a state of revolution in 24 hours. The people are on the verge of an outburst. They are tired of the diplomatic game. That Italy will have to declare herself shortly is the accepted view of the situation.

Rescued American Seamen of Steamer Torpedoed by Germans

These seamen of the American steamer Gulfight were saved by British tugs and patrol boats after the vessel was torpedoed off Scilly Islands May 1. Three of the crew lost their lives as a result of the attack. The testimony of the survivors was to the effect that the German submarine gave no warning whatever, but shot the torpedo into a vessel flying

the American flag in plain view. This has been the cause of the representations made to the German government in the note of President Wilson, sent Friday.

BUSINESS IS GOOD AT IRONTON

Attended to Mining Matters—Ironton Preparing for its Fourth of July Celebration

Ironton, Minn., May 21—In the district court at Brainerd, Michael Flynn was victorious in a suit brought against him by James Smith. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant Flynn.

F. R. Zimmerman, of Duluth, attended to business matters in Ironton.

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Edwards, of Superior, were Ironton visitors.

E. H. McCausland, of Superior, was in Ironton this week.

John H. Hill has been at Duluth attending to important mining business. Representative Edward R. Syverson has returned from a trip to Duluth.

Clement K. Quinn, head of the company whose land is soon to be stripped for a pit mine, was in Ironton this week.

There is not a vacant house in Ironton and business in all lines is good.

Ironton is making great preparations for its Fourth of July celebration. There will be band music, base ball games and other amusements.

Irene avenue is getting to be one of the fine residential streets of the village.

M. B. Ellingson and Isaac Frazer motored over the range on Tuesday afternoon.

Frank Billings, of Cleveland, Ohio, was a range visitor.

J. S. Lutes, superintendent of the Pennington mine and doing stripping work at the Armour No. 1 mine, was in Ironton this week.

It is said the Soo line contemplates putting on additional passenger train service.

The Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Mille Laes mines are expected to ship soon.

E. J. W. Donahue was at Brainerd on business.

Motor parties touring the range visit the Spina hotel which offers fine accommodations.

Roads are being improved leading into Ironton.

Little Worries.

In Chesterton's "Tremendous Trifles" is this: A friend of mine who was visiting a poor woman in bereavement and casting about for some phrase of consolation that should not be either insolent or weak said at last: "I think one can live through these great sorrows and even be the better. What wears one is the little worries."

"That's quite right, mum," answered the old woman, "with emphasis, "and I ought to know, seeing I've had ten of 'em."

Danger to Children

Serious illnesses often result from lingering coughs and colds. The hacking and coughing and disturbed sleep rack a child's body and the poisons weaken the system, so that disease cannot be thrown off. URGES TELEPHONE MERGER

The following letter is from the Public Service Commission of Indiana to the Central Union Telephone company in regard to a merger of systems:

This commission begs to direct attention to its letter of Dec. 12, 1913, bearing on the telephone situation in the city of Indianapolis, especially to that feature of the letter above referred to contained in the last paragraph hereinafter quoted:

Public convenience and necessity demand a single and complete service, which is only possible by a consolidation between the Central Union Telephone Company and the Indianapolis Telephone Company for both local and long distance service. This then, should be necessarily worked out if there is to be a readjustment in rates of either company.

It is the desire of this commission that you immediately undertake the solution of this problem, and as soon as possible submit to the commission a basis for its consideration on which the proper solution can be brought about, which will be fair to the public and companies as well.

Public sentiment as evidenced through the press and by petition leaves no doubt in the minds of this commission that a large majority of the telephone users in the city of Indianapolis are dissatisfied with the present dual service condition and desire instead a single or unified service, which will bring about a complete service without the necessity of incurring the expense and added nuisance of two telephones.

Your company has as far as this commission knows taken no steps (as suggested in the paragraphs above quoted) in the direction of assisting or lending co-operation toward bringing about the condition which the public demands. The commission therefore in this way begs to again call your attention to the matter in the hope that you will realize that the interest of the public as well as your company can be better conserved by lending your assistance to this commission in its attempt to bring about better telephone conditions in the city of Indianapolis.

You are hereby directed to submit to this commission at the earliest possible date a detailed physical valuation of your Indianapolis local exchange property.

Ribot Introduces Additional Appropriation in French Chamber.

Paris, May 20.—Minister of Finance Ribot introduced in the chamber of deputies a bill providing for 1,100,000,000 francs ($220,000,000), being an additional appropriation for the first six months of 1915. Parliament already has voted $500,000,000 francs ($1,700,000,000) for these appropriations.

Ptolemaic Astronomy.

According to the Ptolemaic theory, the east was the center of the universe and was motionless. The surrounding ethereal region was composed of eleven skies or firmaments, which revolved around the earth as a common center. All the celestial bodies moved around the earth. This system lasted from about 200 B. C. to the time of Copernicus.

Gunpowder and Cotton.

It is wonderful to reflect that gunpowder is almost pure cotton. It requires but little juggling—scientific juggling, to be sure—to convert the harmless crop of the cotton field into the most effective of modern smokeless powders. Those big grains of cannon powder which look like pieces of stick candy are but cotton redined to this form and treated with nitrate. All nations make their powder of the same materials, the only difference being in the mechanical form the product takes.

Hornpipes.

Hornpipes are so called from their having been performed originally to the Welsh pib corn, or hornpipe.

BOY OF THREE YEARS IS VANDERBILT HEIR

May Inherit Bulk of Alfred Gwynne's Fortune.

In the financial and social world of New York there is much speculation about the disposition of the estate of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who died when the Lusitania was torpedoed May 7.

Among the suggestions that have been made as to provisions of Mr. Vanderbilt's will is one to the effect that the bulk of the property will probably be left to Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mr. Vanderbilt's elder son by his second wife, who was Mrs. Smith Hollins Mc Kim. The boy is in his third year. His full brother, George, was born last September.

It is also believed that the will contains bequests to Mr. Vanderbilt's brothers and sisters, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Reginald C. Butter.

It butter is too salt it may be freshened by churning with fresh milk in the proportion of one quart of milk to one pound of butter.

Testing butter to see if it is really fresh butter, renovated butter or margarine, may be done by placing a piece of butter about the size of a lima bean in an iron spoon and holding the spoon over an alcohol stove or other fire, stirring the melting butter with a clean wooden stick (toothpick) until it boils. Pure butter boils with a little noise, but a great deal of foam. "Renovated" butter or margarine boils with much noise and sputters like grease and water.—Exchange.

Berwick-on-Tweed has more than once been "arrested" by contending nations, since, being independent of both England and Scotland, by legal fiction or reality, it has happened to offend one or the other of them in a crisis. By the way, it may not be widely known that Berwick-on-Tweed is still at war with Russia, for the town was specially mentioned as a separate belligerent in the ultimatum delivered to Russia ere the Crimean struggle began. But when the peace was signed afterward the name of Berwick was omitted as a party to this.

So technically Berwick still continues to be at war with the czar.—London Answers.

Other Memorial Days Than Ours

Memorial day, which is celebrated on May 30 in almost every state of our Union, has been set apart by statute as a special day for decorating the graves of the nation's soldiers and for holding appropriate exercises in their memory. While it originally sprang from a spontaneous desire to do honor to the heroes who fell in the civil war, still it is now celebrated in honor of all the soldier dead, that their heroism and sacrifices may never be forgotten.

It is interesting to trace the origin of this holiday, for, like many another modern institution, it goes back to the early days of civilization. We have been celebrating it with a special significance since the civil war, and yet upon examining it we find the adaptation of an ancient custom rather than the expression of a new idea. In fact, days set aside for ceremonies to honor the dead are intimately connected with all races.

The pagan Greeks held sacred rites at the graves of their dead and made

The Golden Horn is the narrow strip of water which bounds Constantinople on the north. The Golden Horn is one of the biggest and safest anchorages in the world, and it is so deep that the largest warships can ride at anchor close in shore. It is about four and a half miles long. The suburb of Eyub, on the north side of the Golden Horn, is called after the lieutenant of the prophet who is supposed to have fallen there during the first siege of Constantinople by the Arabs in 672.

Equilibrium in the Kitchen.

Have you ever had your patience tried and the sweet serenity of your spirit ruffled by the wabbling and tipping of saucepans on gas stove burners which were too large? Keep a square or circle of fly screening at hand to place over the burner when using very small cooking vessels and you will have successfully solved this problem.—Good Housekeeping Magazine.

ADVERTISE IN THE DISPATCH

offerings of olives and flowers. A floral wreath was placed at the head of the grave, and if a bloom sprang from the mound it was considered a sign of the happiness of the departed one.

In Rome a similar festival was held for several days in February. It was known as the Parentalia. During this celebration the temples were closed and the last day offerings were made at the tombs. These consisted of milk, honey, fruit, wine and other things, while flowers of every variety were used in profuse decoration.

The druids held a memorial service in the autumn on the eve of the Thanksgiving feast, while the ancient people of Japan and China had a service for the dead called the feast of lanterns.

After the various nations embraced Christianity this custom became more widespread and the nature of its celebration changed materially. The spiritual side of the day became the uppermost feature, and this led directly to the founding of All Souls' day. This is observed in our own country strictly in a religious manner, but in many places in Europe it includes the decoration of flowers in addition to the spiritual exercises. In France, for several days before the feast, wreaths and bunches of immortelles, dyed in various colors, are seen in the shop windows.

In Italy the celebration is very much like that in France, but perhaps a little more attention is paid to the material celebration. Wreaths are often made of metal, and, while more durable, they hardly possess the charm or beauty of real leaves and flowers.

HANDSOME TAILLEUR.

Blue silk gabardine was selected as the material for this charming tailor. The skirt is full and the coat short waisted, with a belt and cord ornaments at the waist line. A high collar gives it style distinction.

PRETTY LINGERIE.

Lace and embroidery combine with exquisite results in the garment pictured, which is made of fine handkerchief linen. Ribbons are run through the openings in the lace and end in bows upon either side.

WORK ON THE BARROWS SCHOOL

Considerable Road Improvement Work to be Done—J. R. Porter Assessing the Town

Barrows, Minn., May 20—On the property of the Brainerd Mining Co. in section 16 drilling is still going on, and it is reported that a large body of good ore is being proven up.

The Iron Range Townsite Co. have moved their main offices to Barrows and will continue their business from there in the future. The office is now open for business with H. A. Peterson in charge. The company will also retain a branch office at 17 Torrey building, Duluth.

Work commenced Monday morning on the new Barrows school with quite a number of workmen on the job. The interior finish is now being done and Mr. Jackson, the contractor, states he expects to have the building completed in four or five weeks.

The town of Crow Wing has a crew of men at work on a road near Barrows. On account of wet weather work was suspended for a few days. It is understood that considerable work will be done on roads in the town this summer.

R. J. Porter, the town assessor, called on a number of people here Tuesday. Mr. Porter, while in ill health, insists on performing his duties as assessor.

The heavy frost of the past two nights did considerable damage to gardens in town, and a number of them will have to be replanted.

A big dance will be given Saturday evening at Peck's hall. A good time is looked forward to and all are cordially invited to attend.

Progress.

"How are their social ambitions getting along?"

Lady Baltimore Cake

The Most Popular Cake This Season

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

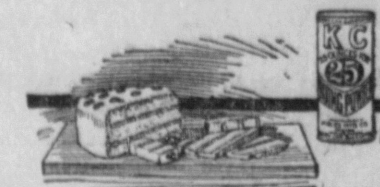

This is considered by many cooking authorities the finest cake that can be made, though in reality it is not at all difficult.

K C Lady Baltimore Cake

One cup butter; 2 cups granulated sugar; 1 cup milk; 1 teaspoonful rose water; 3 1/2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; whites of 6 eggs, beaten dry.

Cream the butter and beat in the sugar gradually. Sift together, three times, the flour and baking powder, and add to the butter and sugar, alternately with the milk and rose water. Lastly, add the egg whites. Bake in three-layer cake pans. Put the layers together with the following frosting.

Note—The cake is a large one and sells at Women's Exchanges for $1.50.

Frosting for Lady Baltimore Cake

Three cups granulated sugar; 1 cup boiling water; whites of 3 eggs; 1 cup chopped raisins; 1 cup chopped nut-meats; 5 figs cut in thin slices.

Stir the sugar and water until the sugar is dissolved, then let boil without stirring until the syrup from a spoon will spin a long thread; pour upon the whites of the eggs, beaten dry, beating constantly meanwhile. Continue the beating until the frosting is cold; add the fruit and spread upon the cake.

The K C Cook's Book contains ninety just such delicious recipes—bread, muffins, cakes and pastry. You can secure a copy free by sending the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the Jacobs Mrs. Co., Chicago. Small cans do not contain cook's book certificates.

DOUBLE SERVICE

AUTOMOBILE TIRES

Guaranteed 7000 Miles Service
ABSOLUTELY PUNCTUREPROOF

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

This 100 per cent greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of tough fabric and one inch surface tread rubber makes these tires absolutely punctureproof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount, but for a short time we offer the following reduced special prices at an introductory offer:

	Tires	Extra Heavy Tubes
28x3	$7.25	$2.20
30x3	8.50	2.30
30x3 1/2	10.85	3.10

38x5	24.40	6.35
36x5	26.30	6.60
37x5	26.30	6.60

All other sizes not included in above list also furnished. Non-skids at 10 per cent additional.

Terms: Payment with order at above special prices, a 10 per cent discount allowed on orders for two or more tires. All personal checks must be certified. Try these tires and be convinced of their very high qualities.

WORE INFLATABLE JACKET.

Westerner Was Saved by Precaution Taken by Himself For Trip.

Charles T. Jeffery of Kenosha, Wis., ascribed his escape in the sinking of the Lusitania to an inflatable life jacket he was wearing. Mr. Jeffery said he went down with the ship and that when he came up he was surrounded by hundreds of persons making desperate efforts in the water to grab something which would keep them afloat.

E. M. Collis of Chicago said he jumped into the sea and clung to a log for two hours before he was picked up.

E. J. Milford of Maryland was dragged into a boat after swimming for fifty minutes.

Mrs. Patrick Wilson of Montreal was lowered in a boat, which was swamped and sank. Supported only by a life belt, she remained afloat for three hours and was finally rescued.

Butter.

It butter is too salt it may be freshened by churning with fresh milk in the proportion of one quart of milk to one pound of butter.

Festing butter to see if it is really fresh butter, renovated butter or margarine, may be done by placing a piece of butter about the size of a lima bean in an iron spoon and holding the spoon over an alcohol stove or other fire, stirring the melting butter with a clean wooden stick (toothpick) until it boils. Pure butter boils with a little noise, but a great deal of foam. "Renovated" butter or margarine boils with much noise and sputters like grease and water.—Exchange.

Arresting a City.

Berwick-on-Tweed has more than once been "arrested" by contending nations, since, being independent of both England and Scotland, by legal fiction or reality, it has happened to offend one or the other of them in a crisis. By the way, it may not be widely known that Berwick-on-Tweed is still at war with Russia, for the town was specially mentioned as a separate belligerent in the ultimatum delivered to Russia ere the Crimean struggle began. But when the peace was signed afterward the name of Berwick was omitted as a party to this.

So technically Berwick still continues to be at war with the czar.—London Answers.

"Why, I thought that was three weeks ago."

"It was," said Barker, "but you know, Bobbie is an expert at making both ends meet."—Harper's.

Other Memorial Days Than Ours

Memorial day, which is celebrated on May 30 in almost every state of our Union, has been set apart by statute as a special day for decorating the graves of the nation's soldiers and for holding appropriate exercises in their memory. While it originally sprang from a spontaneous desire to do honor to the heroes who fell in the civil war, still it is now celebrated in honor of all the soldier dead, that their heroism and sacrifices may never be forgotten. It is interesting to trace the origin of this holiday, for, like many another modern institution, it goes back to the early days of civilization. We have been celebrating it with a special significance since the civil war, and yet upon examining it we find the adaptation of an ancient custom rather than the expression of a new idea. In fact, days set aside for ceremonies to honor the dead are intimately connected with all races.

Constantinople's Golden Horn.

The Golden Horn is the narrow strip of water which bounds Constantinople on the north. The Golden Horn is one of the biggest and safest anchorages in the world, and it is so deep that the largest warships can ride at anchor close in shore. It is about four and a half miles long. The suburb of Eyub, on the north side of the Golden Horn, is called after the lieutenant of the prophet who is supposed to have fallen there during the first siege of Constantinople by the Arabs in 672.

Lady Baltimore Cake

The Most Popular Cake This Season

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

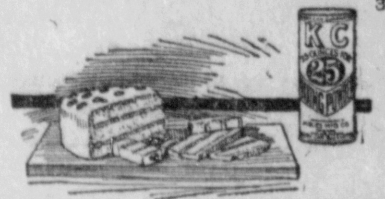

This is considered by many cooking authorities the finest cake that can be made, though in reality it is not at all difficult.

K C Lady Baltimore Cake

One cup butter; 2 cups granulated sugar; 1 cup milk; 1 teaspoonful rose water; 3 1/2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; whites of 6 eggs, beaten dry.

Cream the butter and beat in the sugar gradually. Sift together, three times, the flour and baking powder, and add to the butter and sugar, alternately with the milk and rose water. Lastly, add the egg whites. Bake in three-layer cake pans. Put the layers together with the following frosting.

Note—The cake is a large one and sells at Women's Exchanges for $1.50.

Frosting for Lady Baltimore Cake

Three cups granulated sugar; 1 cup boiling water; whites of 3 eggs; 1 cup chopped raisins; 1 cup chopped nut-meats; 5 eggs cut in thin slices.

Stir the sugar and water until the sugar is dissolved, then let boil without stirring until the syrup from a spoon will spin a long thread; pour upon the whites of the eggs, beaten dry, beating constantly meanwhile. Continue the beating until the frosting is cold; add the fruit and spread upon the cake.

The K C Cook's Book contains ninety just such delicious recipes,—bread, muffins, cakes and pastry. You can secure a copy free by sending the certificate packed in every 2-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JACQUES MFG. CO., Chicago. Small cans do not contain Cook's Book certificates.

$7,000 HUMBLE BLOCK STARTED

Edw. Gustad & Co., are the Builders, Work of Excavation Has Just Been Completed

MINISTER'S POINT MINISTER

Rev. George E. Silloway, of Duluth, Occupies John Wahl Cottage on the Point

Crosby, Minn., May 21.—Dr. J. E. McCoy, Erick Olson, Nolan Bickford, Ed Romain and Ed Lovdahl were a committee from the school board who went to cities where examples of E. F. Broomhall's work exist to form an idea of the capacity of Architect Broomhall to plan and execute the high school commission, a $100,000 building for the Crosby-Ironton district.

Work was started Monday by Edw. Gustad & Co. on the new $7,000 Humble block.

"Minister's Point," two miles east of Crosby on Serpent lake, is a minister's point in fact, for Rev. George E. Silloway of the Grace Methodist church has rented the John Wahl cottage there and with his family will make his home there for the summer.

Mrs. F. A. Lindbergh attended the Order of the Eastern Star state convention in Minneapolis.

Annie Nieme, employed at a drug store in Crosby, has returned to his home in Winton.

Mrs. Robert Hinkle is visiting her parents in Verndale.

The Friday Study club sent a delegation of members to the Sixth District Federation of Women's Clubs meeting at Little Falls.

Under an act passed by the legislature the village president and trustees will draw a salary of $100 a year. Crosby comes in the class that has an assessed valuation of over $1,500,000. Heretofore the president and his council associates drew the munificent salary of $10 a year.

The cold weather of recent days has discouraged any one from bathing in Serpent lake and accordingly there were no infractions of the bathing law ordinance which prescribed the suits to be worn.

W. S. Pitt, of Crosby, head of the county option league, has taken an active fight for the dry side and was one of the committee which filed the dry petition for a county option election to be held June 28.

C. J. O'Connell has been at Minneapolis attending to business matters.

Mrs. A. C. Rosel has returned from St. Paul where she attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Ina Groetsch, to Harold Chamberlain.

Dr. A. B. Smith was at Minneapolis this week.

The Crosby high school nine was defeated by the Staples high school nine, the score reading 2 to 8.

The tennis club is making a campaign for new members. The grounds are in fine shape.

ELECTRICITY.

Some Facts About This Wonderful and Puzzling Medium.

Here are some of the known facts about electricity that will enable those who know nothing about it to understand how it behaves. It must be understood that no one knows what electricity is. Only through its behavior can we arrive at an idea of its nature. The following facts are condensed from an article in the Electrical Experimenter:

All substances, from the heaviest metals to the lightest gases, are electric, but they differ widely in their electric qualities. Electricity is called positive when it exists or is excited in any body in an amount in excess of the amount natural to that body. It is called negative when it exists or is excited in any body in an amount which is less than the amount natural to that body. All electrical phenomena in nature depend upon the tendency of electricity to find an equilibrium between its positive and negative states.

Electricity resides in all substances and is, perhaps, an essential ingredient of their conditions, so every change in their state, whether from heat to cold or from cold to heat, from a state of rest to a state of motion, from solid to liquid or to semifluid, or vice versa, or whether substances combine chemically or are chemically separated—in every change the electrical equilibrium is disturbed, and in proportion to the degree of disturbance is the force exerted by electricity to resume its balance.

Electricity seeks to gain its equilibrium by passing through substances that are favorable to its diffusion. These are called conducting or non-conducting, according as they favor or oppose the passage of the electrical current.

Among the conductors are metals, charcoal, animal fluids, water, vegetable and animal bodies, flame, smoke and vapor. Among the nonconductors—also called insulators—are rust, oils, phosphorus, lime, chalk, rubber, camphor, marble, porcelain, dry gases and air, wool, silk, glass, transparent stones, wax and amber. Some of these become conductors when wet.

When electricity in considerable force, seeking its equilibrium, meets with insulating bodies intense heat and light are produced. In the evolution of which the electric force becomes expended. When the electric force is checked in its course by an insulator a spark is emitted if the current be strong. When currents pass toward each other along wires at the ends of which charcoal points are placed and these ends remain in contact, the electrical communication is uninterrupted and no light is emitted, but the instant the charcoal points are separated a layer of dry air, a nonconductor, is interposed, and the electricity in forcing its way through that nonconductor evolves intense heat and brilliant light. A SOUTHERNER'S MEMORIAL DAY SENTIMENT.

May 30 has been set aside by northern states as Memorial day. Everywhere that a Federal soldier is buried his last resting place is made beautiful on this date by loyal hands and loving hearts. The soldier's body for the time being rests under mounds of buds and blossoms, while the flag for which he fought—our flag—flutters at half staff above his tomb. In many places on Memorial day the graves of Confederate soldiers are strewn with flowers by northern men and women who have forgotten the hatreds of war and the rancors of reconstruction. There can be no true American who does not welcome these signs of peace and friendship. Orators may prate in national gatherings and tell in spread eagle metaphors of the greatness and goodness of the new unification, but all their eloquence fails to impress the southern heart with the sincerity of some northern community when it places above the grave of a Confederate soldier its simple tribute—a bunch of blossoms of the spring. Here is the act without hope of reward, the act that has no motive hidden in its doing—an act of friendship, an act of fraternity and the action of hearts that are large enough to realize that the dead Confederate soldiers were Americans and their bravery was but the reflex of the nation.—Augusta (Ga.) HOW A SHIRKER WON SUCCESS

Luck Proves Better Than Labor In One Case.

"This talk," said the lounge in the country store, "about hard work being at the bottom of big fortunes is all bosh. There's more fortunes started by savin' than hard work, more by rascality than by savin' and more by luck than either. Did I ever tell you about Tommy Shirk, the laziest man in the state? No? Well, I'll give it to you.

"Tommy married Phoebe Cutts and $800. Tom had ten acres of land that wouldn't even grow blackberries. He pattered along tryin' to get somethin' outen it, or pretendin' to, till half his wife's money had been eaten up, then Phoebe said he'd have to find some way of makin' a livin'. Tommy was a good deal cut up by this and went off to a corner of his land that was overgrown with weeds and lay down to think it over. Gittin' his nose right down on the ground, he smelled kerosene. At first he thought some one had spilled it outen a lantern, but on diggin' up the dirt with his knife he found that oil was oozin' from below and the furdur he went down the more of it there was.

"Well, Tom went home and told his wife that there was oil on the property. She laughed at him, but he tuk her to the spot and let her smell it. Tom tuk his spade with him, an' made a hole an' proved to his wife's satisfaction that the oil came from below. She had $400 hid away in a stockin', and in less'n a month that money was goin' outen the stockin' just about as fast as a well was bein' sunk where the oil was oozin'. Mrs. Shirk was almost crazy, seen they kept borin' without gettin' oil, but she resolved to put it all in an' take whatever dose was at the end. One night she handed over the last dollar and had not struck oil.

"The next day after dinner Mrs. Shirk was wipin' the dishes and wettin' 'em ag'in with her tears when the boss came to the door and said:

"Mrs. Shirk, we've got down to where there's oil, but it's not a flowin' well. It has to be pumped up."

"The Shirk family was in a more tantalizin' position than before. There was oil at the bottom of a well, but no means of gettin' it up. If Tom hadn't been so cussed lazy he might have done some pumpin' himself. Weeks passed, and the family was high on to starvin'.

One night a big storm came up, a regular cloudburst, and when mornin' came a creek that had run a mile from the Shirk farm had been turned from its channel and was a-runnin' not a hundred yards from the house. Mrs. Shirk tuk on, lamentin' that the water must run right over the oil well and they'd never git nothin' but water outen it. Tommy, who was a cheerful feller—them wothless cusses always is—tried to console her, but there war'n't no use, so he said he'd go and see about it. Perty soon he come back and said to his wife:

"Phoebe, the creek is a-runnin' right by the well, not over it."

"Well, then," she answered, "if you've got a spark o' energy left you'll go to work, pump out some oil, sell it and git us somethin' to eat."

"I got a better scheme 'n that," he said.

"I don't want to hear none o' your schemes," the indignant wife answered. "I want to see some work."

"Wimmen hain't no brains for schemes," said Tom, and he went away.

"There was an old water wheel on the place, to which a former owner of the property had dug a sluice and had run a saw. Tommy Shirk was too lazy to do any work himself, but he hired a man on tick to haul the wheel to his well. Then he went home and tuk down the pump and tuk it to the well too. He rigged the pump to the water wheel, which was turned by the stream. Just as the oil begun to flow along comes Mrs. Shirk. Tom was restin' on his back, with his hat over his eyes, smokin' his pipe. His wife, not notice in the pumpin' and seein' Tom takin' it easy, begun to fire words at him. Tom raised his hand without even liftin' his hat off his face and pointed at the pump throwin' out oil.

"That was the last time Mrs. Shirk ever spoke disrespectful to her husband. She admitted that if he was lazy he had two redeemin' plints—luck and ingenuity. Tom connected his well with a pipe line that ran near by, and the oil ran merrily, Shirk charging it up at the market price per barrel. His well produced about twenty barrels a day, and even with oil at 50 cents a barrel he made about $10 a day. Bime by he sunk another well and got an other supply of oil about as large as the first. The same stream and water wheel and pump did the work, and Tom had only to make out a bill for $20 where before he had made out one for $10.

"Tom Shirk still smokes his pipe in the sun, with his hat over his eyes, but he usually does it on the porch of a fine house he has built on the spot where his cabin used to be. Mrs. Shirk has come to consider him a prodigy of genius, and they all git a lot o' good outen their oil wells. When they want to go away they jist let the pump go on pumpin'. It works as well at night as in the daytime.

"What I means by this yarn is: Gimme the luck and give the other feller the energy."

WAR ATTITUDE AN AID TO WILSON

His Actions In Regard to Germany May Win Many Votes.

TEUTONIC ISSUE IS AVOIDED

Both Parties Favor Keeping Foreign Elements Out of Our Local Politics. Would Provide Federal Pensions For Confederates, but South Is Opposed to Accepting Funds.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 21.—[Special.]—Political observers, not politicians, believe that President Wilson is going to reap the benefit of the anti-German feeling in this country when he goes into the campaign next year. For a time it was thought that the German voters in this country, who have been a factor in politics as long as one can remember, would support the Republicans in the coming campaign because of hostility toward the administration. This hostility was engendered because the administration refused to stop the exportation of arms and ammunition to the allies in Europe. Several prominent Democrats agreed that the German vote would be turned against the Democratic party on that account.

Possible Reaction.

It was Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas who first pointed out that there might be a reaction or, rather, a solidifying of the anti-German feeling which would sweep over the country and counteract anything like a general throwing of the German vote to the Republicans. Now comes these observations on the outside, men who have no particular stake in the contest, who think they detect a feeling among people which will mean support for the president in that intensely American element which does not countenance the introduction of foreign influence into our politics.

A prominent man who travels about the country a great deal told me that he had found a strong feeling in favor of President Wilson just on account of the German criticism which had been directed against him and the intimation that German voters would be arrayed solidly against him in the next campaign.

Two Dangerous Elements.

There are two dangerous elements in politics, and the use of one or the other often proves a boomerang to the party or person seeking to be the beneficiary. One is race prejudice, and the other is religion. Attempts to solidify a race in a political contest in this country on account of some act of a government or individual is pretty apt to cause a counter solidify in opposition. The same is true when religion has been injected into politics in any pronounced manner. There seems to be a determination among Americans to keep race and religion as issues out of their government and politics as far as possible.

His Democratic Admirers.

Quite a number of the big men on the Democratic side of the senate saw the departure of Elihu Root with considerable regret. Among them was Hoke Smith. "Root and I found ourselves in close agreement upon many questions which were not partisan," said the Georgia senator. "If the Republicans are going to elect a president I would prefer that it should be Elihu Root to any other man I know."

Pensions For Confederates.

It would not be at all surprising if congress should pass a law pensioning the surviving Confederates of the civil war. The amount involved would not be of any great consequence, but the real question involved is one of sentiment. By granting such pensions the country would endorse the idea that it honored men who fought for what they believed was right, especially when fighting honorably in war. Southerners have expressed the idea that sentiment on their side will prevent them from acceding to federal pensions for Confederates. Each state now provides a pension for the dependent veterans of the civil war, and it is said that they desire to do so as a sentiment, which would be destroyed if this duty was taken over by the federal government.

One Wilson Justice.

During more than two years of his term President Wilson has had an opportunity to appoint but one justice on the supreme bench. He then selected his attorney general, James C. McReynolds, for the place. One member of the bench was appointed by Cleveland. He is Chief Justice White, who was first an associate justice and made chief justice by Taft. Justice McKenna was appointed by McKinley, Day and Holmes by Roosevelt, and Hughes, Van Devanter, Lamar and Pitney by Taft. Three of the justices served in congress, White in the senate and McKenna and Pitney in the house. Hughes is the only justice who has been a governor.

The Cost of Living.

At last the promise is made of a reduction in the high cost of living. It is claimed that the Chicago meat packers will make the first reduction, which will be followed by a reduction in the price of other articles. This promise is not made officially nor through the agricultural department, but a Chicago man told a reporter here that prices were going to be lower.

A Civil War Veteran Talks

See here, John and Mary, you and Sue and Will and Bessie come over here and let me talk to you. Yes, tell all the rest to come, too, if they like. There, now, stand around my chair and listen.

I saw the most of you at the campfire last night. How you did laugh when Comrade Phil Check told some of his funny war stories! And then Sue and Bessie both shed a few tears when David James told something of the story of his prison life—of his escape and recapture and of his coming home so weak and worn out with disease and starvation that his mother did not know him. The rest of you looked pretty sober, too, and no wonder. And I thought when the ex-governor talked about the meaning of our flag and the bravery of the men who fought for it in wartimes that John and Will and Harry almost wished for another war that they might show to the world that the boys of these days are just as true and brave as those of '61. I am of opinion, too, that when you were told of the life, character and hospital service of our good Mrs. Governor Harvey and other women like her you girls almost wished that you, like them, might go to war and care for sick and wounded soldiers.

While it does us old veterans good to get together now and then in such a campfire as we had last night, we do not at all wish to have you get from us a love for war. We do wish you to love your country as you love your homes, but we hope that as you grow into manhood and womanhood you will set a very high value on the blessings of peace. We hope that when our nation has hard questions to settle, whether at home or abroad, you and others like you will find some other way to do than fight over them. Don't fight unless it seems certain that great wrongs can be conquered and righted in no other way. Then fight for the right, and fight hard.

When we boys went to war in '61 we verily thought the only way to save our country from disunion and make it in truth the land of the free and the home of the brave was to obey President Lincoln's call for men to fight for the honor of our flag. Many of us were not much older than you, John and Harry. There are thousands of graves about the old battlefields of the south and along our lines of march where sixteen-year-old boys were wrapped in their blankets and laid away to rest, having given their lives for the many blessings of our free, united government of today.

I think, boys and girls, there is something better for you to do. There is just as great need for real patriotism in times of peace as in war. Our country's welfare depends always upon honest, intelligent citizens, women as well as men, citizens who oppose all kinds of wrongdoing and who dare vote for things that are right and men that will do right. It takes bright, honest, industrious, intelligent boys and girls to become such citizens. The best thing you can do now is to fit yourselves for such citizenship. Be prompt at school and at work. Get every lesson well. Do your very best every day in study, in work and in play. Do right because it is right, not because your teacher, father or mother is watching you. Have a high respect for law. Obedience to law is the safeguard of liberty. Don't even hunt or fish contrary to law. Be respectful to your parents, to every one who is your superior, and especially so to the aged.

Shocked.

Ellie—Bella married an octogenarian. Stella—I don't think the girl ought to change her religion for a man.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and dr w it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Here is the act without hope of reward, the act that has no motive hidden in its doing—an act of friendship, an act of fraternity and the action of hearts that are large enough to realize that the dead Confederate soldiers were Americans and their bravery was but the reflex of the nation.—Augusta (Ga.) HOW A SHIRKER WON SUCCESS

Luck Proves Better Than Labor In One Case.

"This talk," said the lounge in the country store, "about hard work being at the bottom of big fortunes is all bosh. There's more fortunes started by savin' than hard work, more by luck than either. Did I ever tell you about Tommy Shirk, the laziest man in the state? No? Well, I'll give it to you.

"Tommy married Phoebe Cutts and $800. Tom had ten acres of land that wouldn't even grow blackberries. He puttered along tryin' to git somethin' outen it, or pretendin' to, till half his wife's money had been eaten up, then Phoebe said he'd have to find some way of makin' a livin'. Tommy was a good deal cut up by this and went off to a corner of his land that was overgrown with weeds and lay down to think it over. Gittin' his nose right down on the ground, he smelled kerosene. At first he thought some one had spilled it outen a lantern, but on diggin' up the dirt with his knife he found that oil was oozin' from below and the fuder he went down the more of it there was.

"Well, Tom went home and told his wife that there was oil on the property. She laughed at him, but he tuk her to the spot and let her smell it. Tom tuk his spade with him, an' made a hole an' proved to his wife's satisfaction that the oil came from below. She had $400 hid away in a stockin', and in less'n a month that money was goin' outen the stockin' just about as fast as a well was bein' sunk where the oil was oozin'. Mrs. Shirk was almost crazy, seen they kept borin' without gettin' oil, but she resolved to put it all in an' take whatever dose was at the end. One night she handed over the last dollar and had not struck oil.

"The next day after dinner Mrs. Shirk was wipin' the dishes and wettin' 'em ag'in with her tears when the boss came to the door and said:

"Mrs. Shirk, we've got down to where there's oil, but it's not a flowin' well. It has to be pumped up."

"The Shirk family was in a more untalizin' position than before. There was oil at the bottom of a well, but no means o' gettin' it up. If Tom hadn't been so cussed lazy he might have done some pumpin' himself. Weeks passed, and the family was high on to starvin'. One night a big storm came up, a regular cloudburst, and when mornin' come a creek that had run a mile from the Shirk farm had been turned from its channel and was a-runnin' not a hundred yards from the house. Mrs. Shirk tuk on, lamentin' that the water must run right over the oil well and they'd never git nothin' but water outen it. Tommy, who was a cheerful feller—them wotless cusses always is—tried to console her, but there wasn't no use, so he said he'd go and see about it. Perty soon he come back and said to his wife:

"Phoebe, the creek is a-runnin' right by the well, not over it."

"Well, then," she answered, "if you've got a spark o' energy left you'll go to work, pump out some oil, sell it and git us somethin' to eat."

"I got a better scheme 'n that," he said.

"I don't want to hear none o' your schemes," the indignant wife answered. "I want to see some work."

"Wimmen hain't no brains for schemes," said Tom, and he went away.

"There was an old water wheel on the place, to which a former owner of the property had dug a sluice and had run a saw. Tommy Shirk was too lazy to do any work himself, but he hired a man on tick to haul the wheel to his well. Then he went home and tuk down the pump and tuk it to the well too. He rigged the pump to the water wheel, which was turned by the stream. Just as the oil began to flow along comes Mrs. Shirk. 'Tom was restin' on his back, with his hat over his eyes, smokin' his pipe. His wife, not notice in the pumpin' and seein' Tom takin' it easy, begun to fire words at him. 'Tom raised his hand without even liftin' his hat off his face and pointed at the pump throwin' out oil.

"That was the last time Mrs. Shirk ever spoke disrespectful to her husband. She admitted that if he was lazy he had two redeemin' plints—luck and ingenuity. Tom connected his well with a pipe line that ran near by, and the oil ran merrily, Shirk charging it up at the market price per barrel. His well produced about twenty barrels a day, and even with oil at 50 cents a barrel he made about $10 a day. Bime by he sunk another well and got another supply of oil about as large as the first. The same stream and water wheel and pump did the work, and Tom had only to make out a bill for $20 where before he had made out one for $10.

"Tom Shirk still smokes his pipe in the sun, with his hat over his eyes, but he usually does it on the porch of a fine house he has built on the spot where his cabin used to be. Mrs. Shirk has come to consider him a prodigy of genius, and they all git a lot o' good outen their oil well. When they want to go away they jst let the pump go on pumpin'. It works as well at night as in the daytime.

"What I means by this yarn is: Gimme the luck and give the other feller the energy."

WAR ATTITUDE AN AID TO WILSON

His Actions In Regard to Germany May Win Many Votes.

TEUTONIC ISSUE IS AVOIDED

Both Parties Favor Keeping Foreign Elements Out of Our Local Politics. Would Provide Federal Pensions For Confederates, But South Is Opposed to Accepting Funds.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 21.—[Special.]—Political observers, not politicians, believe that President Wilson is going to reap the benefit of the anti-German feeling in this country when he goes into the campaign next year. For a time it was thought that the German voters in this country, who have been a factor in politics as long as one can remember, would support the Republicans in the coming campaign because of hostility toward the administration. This hostility was engendered because the administration refused to stop the exportation of arms and ammunition to the allies in Europe. Several prominent Democrats agreed that the German vote would be turned against the Democratic party on that account.

Possible Reaction.

It was Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas who first pointed out that there might be a reaction or, rather, a solidifying of the anti-German feeling which would sweep over the country and counteract anything like a general throwing of the German vote to the Republicans. Now comes these observations on the outside, men who have no particular stake in the contest, who think they detect a feeling among people which will mean support for the president in that intensely American element which does not countenance the introduction of foreign influence into our politics.

A prominent man who travels about the country a great deal told me that he had found a strong feeling in favor of President Wilson just on account of the German criticism which had been directed against him and the intimation that German voters would be arrayed solidly against him in the next campaign.

Two Dangerous Elements.

There are two dangerous elements in politics, and the use of one or the other often proves a boomerang to the party or person seeking to be the beneficiary. One is race prejudice, and the other is religion. Attempts to solidify a race in a political contest in this country on account of some act of a government or individual is pretty apt to cause a counter solidify in opposition. The same is true when religion has been injected into politics in any pronounced manner. There seems to be a determination among Americans to keep race and religion as issues out of their government and politics as far as possible.

His Democratic Admirers.

Quite a number of the big men on the Democratic side of the senate saw the departure of Elihu Root with considerable regret. Among them was Hoke Smith. "Root and I found ourselves in close agreement upon many questions which were not partisan," said the Georgia senator. "If the Republicans are going to elect a president I would prefer that it should be Elihu Root to any other man I know."

Pensions For Confederates.

It would not be at all surprising if congress should pass a law pensioning the surviving Confederates of the civil war. The amount involved would not be of any great consequence, but the real question involved is one of sentiment. By granting such pensions the country would indorse the idea that it honored men who fought for what they believed was right, especially when fighting honorably in war. Southerners have expressed the idea that sentiment on their side will prevent them from acceding to federal pensions for Confederates. Each state now provides a pension for the dependent veterans of the civil war, and it is said that they desire to do so as a sentiment, which would be destroyed if this duty was taken over by the federal government.

One Wilson Justice.

During more than two years of his term President Wilson has had an opportunity to appoint but one justice on the supreme bench. He then selected his attorney general, James C. McReynolds, for the place. One member of the bench was appointed by Cleveland. He is Chief Justice White, and was first an associate justice and made chief justice by Taft. Justice McKenna was appointed by McKinley, Day and Holmes by Roosevelt, and Hughes, Van Devanter, Lamar and Pitney by Taft. Three of the justices served in congress. White in the senate and McKenna and Pitney in the house. Hughes is the only justice who has been a governor.

The Cost of Living.

At last the promise is made of a reduction in the high cost of living. It is claimed that the Chicago meat packers will make the first reduction, which will be followed by a reduction in the price of other articles. This promise is not made officially nor through the agricultural department, but a Chicago man told a reporter here that prices were going to be lower.

A Civil War Veteran Talks

See here, John and Mary, you and Sue and Will and Bessie come over here and let me talk to you. Yes, tell all the rest to come, too, if they like. There, now, stand around my chair and listen.

I saw the most of you at the campfire last night. How you did laugh when Comrade Phil Check told some of his funny war stories! And then Sue and Bess both shed a few tears when David James told something of the story of his prison life—of his escape and recapture and of his coming home so weak and worn out with disease and starvation that his mother did not know him. The rest of you looked pretty sober, too, and no wonder. And I thought when the ex-governor talked about the meaning of our flag and the bravery of the men who fought for it in wartimes that John and Will and Harry almost wished for another war that they might show to the world that the boys of these days are just as true and brave as those of '61. I am of opinion, too, that when you were told of the life, character and hospital service of our good Mrs. Governor Harvey and other women like her you girls almost wished that you, like them, might go to war and care for sick and wounded soldiers.

While it does us old veterans good to get together now and then in such a campfire as we had last night, we do not at all wish to have you get from us a love for war. We do wish you to love your country as you love your homes, but we hope that as you grow into manhood and womanhood you will set a very high value on the blessings of peace. We hope that when our nation has hard questions to settle, whether at home or abroad, you and others like you will find some other way to do than fight over them. Don't fight unless it seems certain that great wrongs can be conquered and righted in no other way. Then fight for the right, and fight hard.

When we boys went to war in '61 we verily thought the only way to save our country from disunion and make it in truth the land of the free and the home of the brave was to obey President Lincoln's call for men to fight for the honor of our flag. Many of us were not much older than you, John and Harry. There are thousands of graves about the old battlefields of the south and along our lines of march where sixteen-year-old boys were wrapped in their blankets and laid away to rest, having given their lives for the many blessings of our free, united government of today.

I think, boys and girls, there is something better for you to do. There is just as great need for real patriotism in times of peace as in war. Our country's welfare depends always upon honest, intelligent citizens, women as well as men, citizens who oppose all kinds of wrongdoing and who dare vote for things that are right and men that will do right. It takes bright, honest, industrious, intelligent boys and girls to become such citizens. The best thing you can do now is to fit yourselves for such citizenship. Be prompt at school and at work. Get every lesson well. Do your very best every day in study, in work and in play. Do right because it is right, not because your teacher, father or mother is watching you. Have a high respect for law. Obedience to law is the safeguard of liberty. Don't even hunt or fish contrary to law. Be respectful to your parents, to every one who is your superior, and especially so to the aged.

Shocked.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

FAIR WEATHER WILL BRING RECORD CROWD

Stage is All Set for the Opening of the 1915 Baseball Season in Fair City of Brainerd

THAT WEATHER MAN'S ACTIONS

Reported He has Promised Relief, Moon Changing Tonight and Sunshine Due Saturday

The stage is all set for the opening of the 1915 baseball season which will be ushered in tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The weather man promises relief from the incumbent weather while Old Sol has been prevailed upon to cast his warming rays upon the occasion.

The players have been hard at work during the week on a number of new plays under the captaincy of Fred Cook while the finishing touches have been applied to the grounds, grandstand and signboards. Nothing has been overlooked by the management in an effort to please the fans while the arrangements for the preliminary exercises are to be carried out as formerly decided upon.

Manager Frazier of Verdale writes that with the elements willing and no snow, Brainerd will be introduced to one of the best articles of ball ever seen. The disappointment which was met with a week ago in not being able to trim the locals has spurred the players on to greater activities and each team will be on its mettle when the call to "play ball" is announced by the umpire. "Al" Victor and "Bud" Roderick are delegated to start the first game while "Rich" Bush and "Johnny" Gavin will be on the points Sunday. Every player on the local team is showing better form than last season while the recruits are coming along fast. "Swedie" Erickson who will hold down the second station has been scooping them up in real league form while his side kicker, "Billy" Bunda, is cracking them out to the tall weeds. Sam Parker the old center-field war horse, together with Sig Sheffield, last year's phenomenal fielder, will again decorate the outer gardens. "Tom" Templeton, the old third sacker, is showing even better form than was anticipated while it is predicted his batting average will be well up in the four hundred class.

Hilmer Sheffield, Hitt and Kannenberg, this year's recruits, it is expected will be permanent fixtures on the team which will give the management plenty of reserve material to draw upon in case of a hard series.

Last year considerable confusion resulted from the lack of system in handling the several gates. This year however, everyone admitted to the grounds will be required to present a ticket and there will be no exception. Every player has been presented with a season pass while those employed on the grounds will be required to conform with certain rules. Ample police regulations will be provided while the grounds have been so arranged as to keep spectators off from the playing field. The roadway leading to the park from Kingwood street has been graded which will make it possible for automobiles to enter through the main gate. Every convenience has been provided so as to warrant the support and good will of the fans while the teams which will play at Brainerd this year all have state-wide records but only through the support of the fans will it be possible to play on Saturdays and Sundays. This arrangement was found necessary in order to minimize the expense necessary to bring here teams from the Twin Cities and Duluth.

MERCHANTS ORGANIZE

Business Association Formed for Collection of Delinquent Accounts Temporary Officers

Through the efforts of the retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a number of the leading business men of the city a meeting of the merchants and professional men was held at the club rooms for the purpose of taking under consideration the advisability of adopting the plan now being followed by the business men of Austin, for the mutual and financial protection of members making up the organization.

Already forty-eight similar associations have been organized in as many towns in southern Minnesota and northern Iowa. The prime object of such an association is a dissemination of useful information pertaining to the buying and selling of merchandise and the prompt collection of bills.

I. B. Sherwood who was invited here from Austin presented the plan and told of its formation, means and results and the success being met with by the different towns now organized. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that the plans were along the right lines and as a result H. W. Linnemann was elected temporary chairman and H. Kaatz, temporary secretary. Committees were also appointed to follow out the plans outlined with a view of perfecting such an association for Brainerd. The membership committee will canvass all business and professional men and it is anticipated that a large list of charter members will be secured, 40 merchants having already signed up.

While all the associations are organized on broad lines the collection of delinquent accounts for its members and elimination of losses sustained by what is known as the dead-beat, will be its main object. It has been proven by other towns that its members are enabled to sell merchandise much cheaper than heretofore to people who pay cash and settle their accounts within a reasonable length of time. The increased cost of doing business within the last few years has made it imperative that every business man extending credit curtail his credits while the semi-monthly pay bill which goes in to effect July 1st will compel merchants to pay closer attention to the extension of long time credits.

BRAINERD GAMES

Verdale to Play Saturday and Sunday with Brainerd, Rain of Course not Interfering

The rain last Saturday and Sunday made it necessary for the Brainerd management to postpone to May 22 and 23 the two games Verdale was scheduled to play those days. The locals will go to Brainerd again this Saturday and if the weather man does not butt in again the original program will be carried out.

The management of the Verdale team has found it necessary to rearrange the schedule of the future games somewhat on account of the postponement of the games. The Ironton team was to have come here for a game next Sunday. This game will be advanced to the first open date in June, but the locals will go to Ironton the 6th of June as originally planned.

On May 30 and 31 there will be two games on the home grounds with the Northern Pacifics of St. Paul. This team is one of the fast semi-professionals of the capitol city and as a consequence both games will no doubt be interesting.

Brainerd is scheduled to play return games here on the 19th and 20th of June.—Verdale Sun.

A Story of Charles Reade.

Charles Mathews was fond of telling a story of Charles Reade when the curtain fell at the old Queen's theater in London on a pronounced failure called "A White Lie." There was no shadow of a call for the author. The curtain divided the audience from the author, who stood on the stage shaking his fist at the invisible foe, still smiling blandly and in mellifluous accents saying: "Infernal idiots! When shall I teach you to respect Charles Reade?"

Softened It a Bit.

FINISH OF THE LARRABEE CASE

Inventory of Liquor Seized Said by Some to Total Over $2,000, Description of Liquor

BEER, WHISKEY, WINES, ETC.

Case Concluded Thursday Afternoon and Judge Halvorson Takes Matter under Advisement

Beer, whiskey and wines predominated in the liquor seized at 422 Front street by Chief of Police Henry Squires and Sheriff Claus A. Theorin, working under a search warrant.

The inventory filed in court in the W. T. Larrabee case, wherein he was charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, gives this as the intoxicating liquors seized:

1 barrel of bottle beer, Rex brand.
1 barrel of bottle beer, Rex brand.
1 barrel of bottle California claret wine.

1 barrel of bottle California claret wine.
1 barrel of bottle beer, Rex brand.
1 barrel of 18 bottles beer Pitzer brand.

2 barrels of bottle beer Rex brand.
1 case Wiener brand beer.
1 barrel grape brandy.
1 barrel Victor sherry.

2 cases beer.
5 quarts rye whiskey.
9 bottles Hennessy cognac brandy.
13 bottles sweet Muscatel.

1 bottle Chartreux.
2 bottles creme de menthe.
3 pint bottles beer.
9 stone jugs containing liquor.

1 small keg kimble whiskey.
1 barrel bourbon whiskey, partly full.
1 barrel port wine.
2 kegs sherry wine, partly full.

Twenty-six cases of empty beer bottles were left on the premises, is recited at the finish of the inventory. All goods seized were stored in the old city jail.

At the court case concluded late Thursday afternoon, an officer of the Mississippi club, the treasurer, gave testimony that he had received no money in dues, had paid out no money and had little in the way of accounts. He testified that no payment had been made to Mr. Larrabee. No sales, according to his knowledge, had been made to club members. He did not know how much money the club had.

Judge Halvorson took the case under advisement at its conclusion.

Judge Halvorson today sentenced Larrabee to 60 days in the city jail and ordered the destruction of the liquor found in the search warrant and ordered sold the fixtures, if any, seized in the search warrant. An appeal will probably be taken.

LEMOINE CASE NOW ON TRIAL

Maurice LeMoine, Charged with Keeping an Unlicensed Drinking Place, up in Court

CHIEF AND SHERIFF ARE HEARD
Four Half Barrels Beer Found at No. 418 Front Street—Testimony About Former Police

Maurice LeMoine, charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, is having his trial in the municipal court this afternoon, Judge Gustav Halvorson presiding.

Chief of Police Henry Squires testified that under the search warrant four half barrels of beer were found May 17 on the floor in the basement of N. 418 Front street. He thought LeMoine owned the place. LeMoine made no protest when searched, but showed the chief and the sheriff where the liquor was.

Under cross examination by D. A. Haggard, Chief Squires said LeMoine told him he had tried to get the liquor out of the place and away, but was stopped by Officers Scott and Olson. They stopped him from hauling it out.

At No. 420 Front street, said Mr. Squires, liquor was found in the store room back of the lobby on the main floor.

Sheriff Claus A. Theorin said the Hotel Antlers was searched upstairs and downstairs. They found Maurice LeMoine in possession. He and the chief went through the bar room, basement and the wash room. LeMoine said he had hauled out most of the liquor to his farm, but the night patrolmen had stopped him. Four half barrels of beer were found on ice in the basement. More liquor was found back of the wash room upstairs. They made no inquiries as to any one else in possession.

The case was still on trial as the Dispatch went to press.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Verdict for Plaintiff in Gustad vs McCoy, et al, Cossette and Wise are Sentenced

In district court Fred Cossette and Edward W. Wise, pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the second degree. They were sentenced to an indeterminate term in the reformatory and Judge B. F. Wright suspended sentence. The boys will be on probation and are to report to their attorney, M. E. Ryan. Should there be any lapses from grace, then the reformatory sentence takes effect.

In the case of Ed Gustad vs J. E. McCoy et al the jury found for the plaintiff and assessed his damages at $419.77 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent from December 1, 1913.

In the case of Otis Goslin vs the Crow Wing County Belgian Horse Co. the jury found for the defendants, a directed verdict being given. The defense was to the effect that the $1200 not sued on was alleged to be fraudulently secured.

HEAD WIRELESS OPERATOR

Kenneth M. Hance, Nephew of Mrs. W. H. Congdon, Aboard Boat Bound for the War Zone

Kenneth M. Hance, of Fargo, N. D., nephew of Mrs. H. W. Congdon, of this city and formerly electrician of the Shipp-Gruehn Co., has accepted a position as head wireless operator on a boat bound for the war zone. The Fargo Forum gives this account of Mr. Hance:

In a letter received here yesterday by his mother, Kenneth M. Hance, a young Fargo boy, born and raised in this city, is now aboard the steamship Clamese Prince bound for St. Nazaire, France, a town in the vicinity of Bordeaux.

Mr. Hance is well known in the city and is the first person in the city of Fargo to equip himself with a wireless outfit. He took great interest in the wireless and while attending the Fargo schools and the agricultural college continued his work with the interesting mechanism.

Last spring he went to a school at Cleveland, O., where he studied for seven weeks and all during the past summer was aboard ships in the great lakes as operator. According to the information received here by his mother he is now chief operator aboard the ship Clamese Prince and bound for the war zone, where he will probably see many interesting things connected with the great war that is now raging over Europe.

Mr. Hance is a hustler and there is no doubt in the minds of his many Fargo friends that he will make good in whatever station he is placed.

Old London Firms.

Two tradesmen, or, rather, two firms, mentioned by Pepys still exist in London—Hill, the Bond street violin maker, and Dan Rawlinson of Fenchurch street, the first grocer to sell tea in England, whose concern survives under the name of Davidson, Newman & Co.

The identical sign of three sugar loaves that hung over Rawlinson's shop adorns the present establishment. There, too, may be seen the canisters and scales dating from the seventeenth century. Dan Rawlinson charged his customers $15 a pound for tea.—Exchange.

FAIR WEATHER WILL BRING RECORD CROWD

Stage is All Set for the Opening of the 1915 Baseball Season in Fair City of Brainerd

THAT WEATHER MAN'S ACTIONS

Reported He has Promised Relief, Moon Changing Tonight and Sunshine Due Saturday

The stage is all set for the opening of the 1915 baseball season which will be ushered in tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The weather man promises relief from the incumbent weather while Old Sol has been prevailed upon to cast his warming rays upon the occasion.

The players have been hard at work during the week on a number of new plays under the captaincy of Fred Cook while the finishing touches have been applied to the grounds, grandstand and signboards. Nothing has been overlooked by the management in an effort to please the fans while the arrangements for the preliminary exercises are to be carried out as formerly decided upon.

Manager Frazier of Verdale writes that with the elements willing and no snow, Brainerd will be introduced to one of the best articles of ball ever seen. The disappointment which was met with a week ago in not being able to trim the locals has spurred the players on to greater activities and each team will be on its mettle when the call to "play ball" is announced by the umpire. "Al" Victor and "Bud" Roderick are delegated to start the first game while "Rich" Bush and "Johnny" Gavin will be on the points Sunday. Every player on the local team is showing better form than last season while the recruits are coming along fast. "Swedie" Erickson who will hold down the second station has been scooping them up in real league form while his side kicker, "Billy" Brada, is cracking them out to the tall weeds. Sam Parker the old center-field war horse, together with Sig Sheffield, last year's phenomenal fielder, will again decorate the outer gardens. "Tom" Templeton, the old third sacker, is showing even better form than was anticipated while it is predicted his batting average will be well up in the four hundred class.

Hilmer Sheffield, Hitt and Kannenberg, this year's recruits, it is expected will be permanent fixtures on the team which will give the management plenty of reserve material to draw upon in case of a hard series.

Last year considerable confusion resulted from the lack of system in handling the several gates. This year however, everyone admitted to the grounds will be required to present a ticket and there will be no exception. Every player has been presented with a season pass while those employed on the grounds will be required to conform with certain rules. Ample police regulations will be provided while the grounds have been so arranged as to keep spectators off from the playing field. The roadway leading to the park from Kingwood street has been graded which will make it possible for automobiles to enter through the main gate. Every convenience has been provided so as to warrant the support and good will of the fans while the teams which will play at Brainerd this year all have state-wide records but only through the support of the fans will it be possible to play on Saturdays and Sundays. This arrangement was found necessary in order to minimize the expense necessary to bring here teams from the Twin Cities and Duluth.

MERCHANTS ORGANIZE

Business Association Formed for Collection of Delinquent Accounts Temporary Officers

Through the efforts of the retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a number of the leading business men of the city a meeting of the merchants and professional men was held at the club rooms for the purpose of taking under consideration the advisability of adopting the plan now being followed by the business men of Austin, for the mutual and financial protection of members making up the organization.

Already forty-eight similar associations have been organized in as many towns in southern Minnesota and northern Iowa. The prime object of such an association is a dissemination of useful information pertaining to the buying and selling of merchandise and the prompt collection of bills.

I. B. Sherwood who was invited here from Austin presented the plan and told of its formation, means and results and the success being met with by the different towns now organized. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that the plans were along the right lines and as a result H. W. Linnemann was elected temporary chairman and H. Kaatz, temporary secretary. Committees were also appointed to follow out the plans outlined with a view of perfecting such an association for Brainerd. The membership committee will canvass all business and professional men and it is anticipated that a large list of charter members will be secured, 40 merchants having already signed up.

While all the associations are organized on broad lines the collection of delinquent accounts for its members and elimination of losses sustained by what is known as the deadbeat, will be its main object. It has been proven by other towns that its members are enabled to sell merchandise much cheaper than heretofore to people who pay cash and settle their accounts within a reasonable length of time. The increased cost of doing business within the last few years has made it imperative that every business man extending credit curtail his credits while the semi-monthly pay bill which goes in to effect July 1st will compel merchants to pay closer attention to the extension of long time credits.

BRAINERD GAMES

Verdale to Play Saturday and Sunday with Brainerd, Rain of Course not Interfering

The rain last Saturday and Sunday made it necessary for the Brainerd management to postpone to May 22 and 23 the two games Verdale was scheduled to play those days. The locals will go to Brainerd again this Saturday and if the weather man does not butt in again the original program will be carried out.

The management of the Verdale team has found it necessary to rearrange the schedule of the future games somewhat on account of the postponement of the games. The Ironton team was to have come here for a game next Sunday. This game will be advanced to the first open date in June, but the locals will go to Ironton the 6th of June as originally planned.

On May 30 and 31 there will be two games on the home grounds with the Northern Pacifics of St. Paul. This team is one of the fast semi-professionals of the capitol city and as a consequence both games will no doubt be interesting.

Brainerd is scheduled to play return games here on the 19th and 20th of June.—Verdale Sun.

A Story of Charles Reade.

Charles Mathews was found of telling a story of Charles Reade when the curtain fell at the old Queen's theater in London on a pronounced failure called "A White Lie." There was no shadow of a call for the author. The curtain divided the audience from the author, who stood on the stage shaking his fist at the invisible foe, still smiling blandly and in mellifluous accents saying: "Infernal Idiots! When shall I teach you to respect Charles Reade?"

Softened it a Bit.

Case Concluded Thursday Afternoon and Judge Halvorson Takes Matter under Advisement

Beer, whiskey and wines predominated in the liquor seized at 422 Front street by Chief of Police Henry Squires and Sheriff Claus A. Theorin, working under a search warrant.

The inventory filed in court in the W. T. Larrabee case, wherein he was charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, gives this as the intoxicating liquors seized:

1 barrel of bottle beer, Rex brand.
1 barrel of bottle beer, Rex brand.
1 barrel of bottle California claret wine.
1 barrel of bottle California claret wine.
1 barrel of bottle beer, Rex brand.
1 barrel of 18 bottles beer Flitger brand.

2 barrels of bottle beer Rex brand.
1 case Wiener brand beer.
1 barrel grape brandy.
1 barrel Victor sherry.
2 cases beer.
5 quarts rye whiskey.
9 bottles Hennessy cognac brandy.
13 bottles sweet Muscatel.
4 bottles orange bitters.
7 bottles haut sauternes.
7 bottles Monnock rye whiskey.
5 bottles gin.
1 bottle Old Crow whiskey.
1 bottle Yuca rye whiskey.
2 bottles nonpareil tokay.
2 bottles cabinet.
7 bottles sherry wine.
3 bottles Scotch whiskey.
1 bottle gin.

2 bottles gilka kummel.
1 bottle maag bitters.
1 bottle Nolly Prat Co.
1 case bourbon whiskey.
1 keg brandy.
1 keg rum.
1 keg Scotch whiskey, partly full.
1 keg punch, partly full.

3 pint bottles beer.
9 stone jugs containing liquor.
1 small keg kimbale whiskey.
1 barrel bourbon whiskey, partly full.

1 barrel port wine.
2 kegs sherry wine, partly full.
Twenty-six cases of empty beer bottles were left on the premises, as recited at the finish of the inventory. All goods seized were stored in the old city jail.

At the court case concluded late Thursday afternoon, an officer of the Mississippi club, the treasurer, gave testimony that he had received no money in dues, had paid out no money and had little in the way of accounts. He testified that no payment had been made to Mr. Larrabee. No sales, according to his knowledge, had been made to club members. He did not know how much money the club had.

Judge Halvorson took the case under advisement at its conclusion. Judge Halvorson today sentenced Larrabee to 60 days in the city jail and ordered the destruction of the liquor found in the search warrant and ordered sold the fixtures, if any, seized in the search warrant. An appeal will probably be taken.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Verdict for Plaintiff in Gustaf vs McCoy, et al, Cossette and Wise are Sentenced

In district court Fred Cossette and Edward W. Wise, pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the second degree. They were sentenced to an indeterminate term in the reformatory and Judge B. F. Wright suspended sentence. The boys will be on probation and are to report to their attorney, M. E. Ryan. Should there be any lapses from grace, then the reformatory sentence takes effect.

In the case of Ed Gustaf vs J. E. McCoy et al the jury found for the plaintiff and assessed his damages at $419.77 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent from December 1, 1913.

In the case of Otis Goslin vs the Crow Wing County Belgian Horse Co. the jury found for the defendants, a directed verdict being given. The defense was to the effect that the $1200 not sued on was alleged to be fraudulently secured.

LEMOINE CASE NOW ON TRIAL

Maurice LeMoine, Charged with Keeping an Unlicensed Drinking Place, up in Court

CHIEF AND SHERIFF ARE HEARD
Four Half Barrels Beer Found at No. 418 Front Street—Testimony About Former Police

Maurice LeMoine, charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, is having his trial in the municipal court this afternoon, Judge Gustav Halvorson presiding.

Chief of Police Henry Squires testified that under the search warrant four half barrels of beer were found May 17 on the floor in the basement of N. 418 Front street. He thought LeMoine owned the place. LeMoine made no protest when searched, but showed the chief and the sheriff where the liquor was.

Under cross examination by D. A. Haggard, Chief Squires said LeMoine told him he had tried to get the liquor out of the place and away, but was stopped by Officers Scott and Olson. They stopped him from hauling it out.

At No. 420 Front street, said Mr. Squires, liquor was found in the store room back of the lobby on the main floor.

Sheriff Claus A. Theorin said the Hotel Antlers was searched upstairs and downstairs. They found Maurice LeMoine in possession. He and the chief went through the bar room, basement and the wash room. LeMoine said he had hauled out most of the liquor to his farm, but the night patrolmen had stopped him. Four half barrels of beer were found on ice in the basement. More liquor was found back of the wash room upstairs. They made no inquiries as to any one else in possession.

The case was still on trial as the Dispatch went to press.

HEAD WIRELESS OPERATOR

Kenneth M. Hance, Nephew of Mrs. W. H. Congdon, Aboard Boat Bound for the War Zone

Kenneth M. Hance, of Fargo, N. D., nephew of Mrs. H. W. Congdon, of this city and formerly electrician of the Shipp-Gruenhagen Co., has accepted a position as head wireless operator on a boat bound for the war zone. The Fargo Forum gives this account of Mr. Hance:

In a letter received here yesterday by his mother, Kenneth M. Hance, a young Fargo boy, born and raised in this city, is now aboard the steamship Clamesse Prince bound for St. Nazaire, France, a town in the vicinity of Bordeaux.

Mr. Hance is well known in the city and is the first person in the city of Fargo to equip himself with a wireless outfit. He took great interest in the wireless and while attending the Fargo schools and the agricultural college continued his work with the interesting mechanism.

Last spring he went to a school at Cleveland, O., where he studied for seven weeks and all during the past summer was aboard ships in the great lakes as operator. According to the information received here by his mother he is now chief operator aboard the ship Clamesse Prince and bound for the war zone, where he will probably see many interesting things connected with the great war that is now raging over Europe.

Mr. Hance is a hustler and there is no doubt in the minds of his many Fargo friends that he will make good in whatever station he is placed.

DENIES LEADING COLORADO STRIKE

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Is Closely Questioned.

READS FROM MANY LETTERS

Oil Magnate's Son Appears Before Federal Industrial Commission in Connection With Its Inquiry Into Conditions Surrounding the Recent Strike of Miners.

Washington, May 21.—After reading two statements in which he reaffirmed his denial that he was the leading mind in the Colorado strike and replying to statements that he "exercised a personal influence that extended even to the state house at Denver," John D. Rockefeller, Jr., appearing before the federal industrial commission, was subjected to a searching examination by Chairman Walsh of the commission.

In support of his contention that every effort was made to bring about peace Mr. Rockefeller read from numerous letters and telegrams containing suggestions made by him and his associates at the Denver office of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

He denied that he or his associates had anything to do with the recent prosecution of John R. Lawson.

Letters submitted to the commission by Mr. Rockefeller include considerable correspondence bearing on the strike, between himself and L. M. Bowers, who was chairman of the executive department of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. In one to Mr. Rockefeller Mr. Bowers said:

"With the exception of a few small operators who have no funds to fight with and who expect to reap a rich harvest from high prices all of the coal operators are a unit and under no condition whatever will they submit to the dictation of the United Mine Workers of America.

Scores Secretary Wilson.

"When this government places in the cabinet men like Commissioner of Labor Wilson, who was for many years secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, which has been one of the unions that permitted more disorder and bloodshed than any class of labor organizations in this country, we are not skating upon thin ice, but we are on top of a volcano."

Mr. Walsh asked what Mr. Rockefeller would do in the interests of right and justice if it proved true that one of the jurors in the Lawson case had exclusive favors from the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

Mr. Rockefeller replied that he certainly desired that justice should be done no one and he thought the facts should be investigated by the district attorney.

Mr. Walsh read a letter written by the witness during the strike to Mr. Bowers, in which he said John D. Rockefeller, Sr., had been following the events of the strike and was well satisfied with its progress. Mr. Walsh wished to know whether the elder Mr. Rockefeller had expressed his satisfaction after men and women had been killed and other violent events had occurred.

Mr. Rockefeller said he could not recall exactly what events had occurred at the time he wrote the letter giving his father's views.

JURY SLOW IN AGREEING

Are Considering Evidence in Barnes-Roosevelt Case.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 21.—The jury chosen to determine whether Theodore Roosevelt libeled William Barnes and, if so, what sum is commensurate with the damages sustained by the latter, was locked up after it had deliberated for more than seven hours and failed to reach a verdict. A request involving politics was made by one of the jurors on the single occasion when he and his companions were brought back into the courtroom.

Jury No. 3—Walter J. Zuill, a Syracuse manufacturer and a Progressive—asked Justice William H. Andrews, who presided at the trial, to "reiterate that part of his charge in which he said that the jurymen would not be performing their sworn duty if they considered politics or allowed their individual political beliefs to play any part in the reaching of a verdict."

THREE YEARS FOR DARNELL

Convicted at Milwaukee of Violating the Mann Act.

Milwaukee, May 21.—James Morrison Darnell, recently convicted of violating the Mann white slave act, in transporting Ruth Soper from Owatonna, Minn., to Chicago and thence to Kenosha, was denied a new trial by Federal Judge Geiger and sentenced to three years imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth. Before being sentenced Darnell addressed the court and said that whatever he had done had been for the benefit of the woman involved in his case.

He admitted that he lied to the fellowship conference at Sycamore, Ill., regarding his relations with Miss Soper, but said he did so "to save her."

SEND REGRETS TO PRESIDENT

Suffrage Leaders Apologize for Actions of Certain Women.

New York, May 21.—Letters to President Wilson, in which the writers apologize for the attempt by suffragettes to approach the president during his recent stay in this city, with an appeal for the suffragist cause, have been mailed to the president by a number of suffrage leaders here. Among the writers were Miss Mary G. Hay, chairman of the Woman Suffrage party; Mrs. James Lees Laidlow, president of the Men's League for Women Suffrage; Mrs. Frederick Nathan and Mrs. Norman Deer Whitehouse, chairman of the publicity council of the Empire State campaign committee.

PEARSON CASE IS ARGUED

Restraining Order Is Taken Under Adversity.

Milwaukee, May 21.—After lengthy arguments by counsel for both sides on the staying of the order obtained by General Samuel Pearson, which requested the Allis-Chalmers company and others to show cause why they should not be restrained from manufacturing war munitions, Circuit Judge William J. Turner took the case under advisement.

Attorney Max Palm of Chicago, representing the Allis-Chalmers company, cited treaties, proclamations, statutes and treaties on international law and asked the court to quash the order.

PRESBYTERIANS IN SESSION

Attendance at Rochester Assembly Estimated at 1,200.

Rochester, N. Y., May 21.—The 127th general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States opened here with commissioners, prominent divines and leaders in missionary, educational and every phase of Christian activity from all parts of the nation and foreign fields present. The attendance is estimated at between 1,200 and 1,500.

British Army Officer Robbed.

Denver, May 21.—Captain J. Saltren Willett of the remount service of the British army has reported to the Denver police department that he was either robbed of or has lost a letter of credit for $50,000. Local banks are notified that payment is stopped.

T. R. SUPPORTERS AGAIN HOPEFUL

LABEL SUIT HAS MUCH EFFECT

Many Old Line Republicans Would Never Vote For Colonel Again—People of Country Wanted Action When Lusitania Was Sunk, but None Knew What Kind of Action Was Necessary.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 19.—[Special.]—Talk of Roosevelt as the Republican nominee has been revived by the hopeful band of admirers who want to see him again in the White House. There are a great many T. R. backers in the United States. It might just as well be recognized first as last that if Roosevelt runs independent again he will get a lot of votes, perhaps enough to turn the scale against his old party, as was the case in 1912.

But Roosevelt as the nominee of the Republican party is a different question. It is generally believed that the old line Republicans, those who stayed with Taft in 1912, will prefer to go down to defeat rather than give Roosevelt the nomination. At the same time it is said that the Barnes-Roosevelt trial has had the effect of boosting Roosevelt for the Republican nomination, something that Barnes did not have in mind when he brought the suit.

New York Bosses Queer.

New York bosses never seem to know the kind of candidates the rest of the country wants. That is true of both parties. Both times when Cleveland was elected his nomination had to be forced on to New York over the opposition of the men in control. The only Republican president New York has had would never have had the delegates in a straight fight. He was nominated for vice president because New York wanted to get him out of the state. Barnes and the other leaders in New York cannot understand why a large share of the balance of the country wants Roosevelt or wanted Hughes at one time. Neither of those men is the bosses' kind of man, but they seem to get the glad hand outside of New York.

Dissenting Opinions.

Nearly every time the supreme court renders important decisions there are several dissenting opinions. "What is the use of a dissenting opinion?" asked a visitor at the courtroom. "No use whatever," was the reply. "Unless it can serve to mix up young lawyers on law points." As a matter of fact, the dissenting opinion has no weight, though often used in other courts and in congress when constitutional questions are being debated. The only reason for making them a part of the court's record is to give those who do not agree with the conclusion of the majority of the court an opportunity to air their views.

"He Ought to Act."

There was almost a unanimous opinion after the sinking of the Lusitania that the president ought to act. In fact the press of the country and many people clamored for action. But strange to say, in making these demands few gave the president the benefit of their views as to how he was to act. What was a president to do? What would you have done if you had been in his place? Just what could this government do? It was a mighty hard problem to solve.

Sought by Sightseers.

The throngs of trippers who make Washington a stopping point take in most of the public buildings if they have time. All go to the capitol, and nearly all to the congressional library. The next point of interest is the Pan-American Union building. When it was just completed from 100 to 150 was the average number of visitors. Now there is an average daily run of visitors from 500 to 1,500, according to the number that may be in the city. The important fact, according to Director John Barrett, is that these visitors are taking home with them a story of the upbuilding of the Pan-American sentiment and interesting our people in the republics and people of this hemisphere.

One Word P. O. Names.

Several years ago some man with a certain kind of a bug started the scheme of having but one word for the names of postoffices, with the result that hundreds of names have been changed and are made to look odd by being consolidated and the local character of the name eliminated. Thus it happened lately that a certain West Virginia community petitioned to have a name changed. It was first named in honor of a valued citizen known as Squire Jim. The postoffice people made it Squire Jim, and of course the community wants a change.

House Coming Home.

The return of Colonel E. M. House from his mission in Europe is expected to afford the president an opportunity to acquire considerable information about the foreign situation. It is doubtful if the information will be made public as Colonel House was said to be on a confidential mission for the president to ascertain if peace proposals from this country would be acceptable to foreign governments now at war.

THREE PERSONS ARE KILLED

Automobile Runs Over Embankment Near Helena, Mont.

Helena, Mont., May 21.—An automobile turned turtle at Montana City, eight miles from Helena, killing James Jones, the driver, H. M. Little, a Helena saloon owner, and Genevieve Harned, eighteen years old. Miss Evelyn Chapman was seriously injured and may die.

Mrs. Harned, proprietor of the Savoy rooming house and mother of the dead girl, and Leslie McKinney, a Helena milkman, escaped uninjured. The lighting apparatus of the machine gave out at Alhambra and Jones was following another machine. At a dangerous turn in the road the auto ran off and turned over down an embankment.

Australian General Dies.

Cairo, May 21.—Brigadier General William T. Bridges of the Australian expeditionary force died aboard a hospital ship as a result of wounds received in the operations against the Dardanelles. He was buried at Alexandria.

Height of Generosity.

A Louisville man went into a restaurant in a nearby town recently. He was dressed in his best clothes, and his mortification almost overcame him when the waiter, in passing, spilled a bowl of gravy upon his trousers. "Look, darn you, look!" he ejaculated. "You've spilled the gravy on me." The waiter winked and whispered: "That's all right, sir. Don't say anything about it and I'll bring you another bowl of gravy without charge."—Louisville Times.

DENIES LEADING COLORADO STRIKE

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Is Closely Questioned.

READS FROM MANY LETTERS

Oil Magnate's Son Appears Before Federal Industrial Commission in Connection With Its Inquiry Into Conditions Surrounding the Recent Strike of Miners.

Washington, May 21.—After reading two statements in which he reaffirmed his denial that he was the leading mind in the Colorado strike and replying to statements that he "exercised a personal influence that extended even to the state house at Denver," John D. Rockefeller, Jr., appearing before the federal industrial commission, was subjected to a searching examination by Chairman Walsh of the commission.

In support of his contention that every effort was made to bring about peace Mr. Rockefeller read from numerous letters and telegrams containing suggestions made by him and his associates at the Denver office of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

He denied that he or his associates had anything to do with the recent prosecution of John R. Lawson.

Letters submitted to the commission by Mr. Rockefeller include considerable correspondence bearing on the strike, between himself and L. M. Bowers, who was chairman of the executive department of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. In one to Mr. Rockefeller Mr. Bowers said:

"With the exception of a few small operators who have no funds to fight with and who expect to reap a rich harvest from high prices all of the coal operators are a unit and under no condition whatever will they submit to the dictation of the United Mine Workers of America."

Scores Secretary Wilson.

"When this government places in the cabinet men like Commissioner of Labor Wilson, who was for many years secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, which has been one of the unions that permitted disorder and bloodshed than any class of labor organizations in this country, we are not skating upon thin ice, but we are on top of a volcano."

Mr. Walsh asked what Mr. Rockefeller would do in the interests of right and justice if it proved true that one of the jurors in the Lawson case had exclusive favors from the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

Mr. Rockefeller replied that he certainly desired that justice should be done no one and he thought the facts should be investigated by the district attorney.

Mr. Walsh read a letter written by the witness during the strike to Mr. Bowers, in which he said John D. Rockefeller, Sr., had been following the events of the strike and was well satisfied with its progress. Mr. Walsh wished to know whether the elder Mr. Rockefeller had expressed his satisfaction after men and women had been killed and other violent events had occurred.

Mr. Rockefeller said he could not recall exactly what events had occurred at the time he wrote the letter giving his father's views.

JURY SLOW IN AGREEING

Are Considering Evidence in Barnes-Roosevelt Case.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 21.—The jury chosen to determine whether Theodore Roosevelt libeled William Barnes and, if so, what sum is commensurate with the damages sustained by the latter, was locked up after it had deliberated for more than seven hours and failed to reach a verdict. A request involving politics was made by one of the jurors on the single occasion when he and his companions were brought back into the courtroom.

Juror No. 3—Walter J. Zuili, a Syracuse manufacturer and a Progressive—asked Justice William H. Andrews, who presided at the trial, to "reiterate that part of his charge in which he said that the jurymen would not be performing their sworn duty if they considered politics or allowed their individual political beliefs to play any part in the reaching of a verdict."

THREE YEARS FOR DARNELL

Convicted at Milwaukee of Violating the Mann Act.

Milwaukee, May 21.—James Morrison Darnell, recently convicted of violating the Mann white slave act, in transporting Ruth Soper from Owatonna, Minn., to Chicago and thence to Kenosha, was denied a new trial by Federal Judge Geiger and sentenced to three years' imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth. Before being sentenced Darnell addressed the court and said that whatever he had done had been for the benefit of the woman involved in his case.

He admitted that he lied to the fellowship conference at Sycamore, Ill., regarding his relations with Miss Soper, but said he did so "to save her."

SEND REGRETS TO PRESIDENT

Surge Leaders Apologize for Actions of Certain Women.

New York, May 21.—Letters to President Wilson, in which the writers apologize for the attempt by suffragettes to approach the president during his recent stay in this city, with an appeal for the suffragist cause, have been mailed to the president by a number of suffrage leaders here. Among the writers were Miss Mary G. Hay, chairman of the Woman Suffrage party; Mrs. James Lees Laidlow, president of the Men's League for Women Suffrage; Mrs. Frederick Nathan and Mrs. Norman Deer Whitehouse, chairman of the publicity council of the Empire State campaign committee.

PEARSON CASE IS ARGUED

Restraining Order Is Taken Under Advisement.

Milwaukee, May 21.—After lengthy arguments by counsel for both sides on the staying of the order obtained by General Samuel Pearson, which requested the Allis-Chalmers company and others to show cause why they should not be restrained from manufacturing war munitions, Circuit Judge William J. Turner took the case under advisement.

Attorney Max Palm of Chicago, representing the Allis-Chalmers company, cited treaties, proclamations, statutes and treaties on international law and asked the court to quash the order.
